if you'll have me. I want to go to Calif. with you and your mother. Please don't leave the report

The ACCOLADE uses as its theme this year the school crest which was designed as a result of a Student Council project. All Woodlawn students were given an opportunity to submit a design for a shield. The council had about fifteen entries, all done in color, by the closing date in mid December. Shield Committee chairman Gerald Box was assisted in selecting a design by council committee members, Shirley Grunwald, Frances Wood, Henry Hungerbeeler, and Mark Estes. Their selection was subject to approval by several faculty members. Two entries, submitted by Juanita Beene and Mark Estes were chosen as the best and they were combined. Mark also did the art work for the finished crest, the Student Council approved it, and it was submitted to the school. Their selection, with a few revisions, was officially accepted and will henceforth be used as a crest representing Woodlawn High School.

The school colors of royal blue and scarlet decorate the shield itself. Gold decorations completely encircle the shield. Each symbol represents something that has particular meaning. At the top is a large old English W representing the name of our school. The helmet is a reminder that we are Knights. Crossed swords indicate that we as students render service, and the cross and scroll stand for leadership qualities. The Knight on a horse has become a widely recognized symbol of our school as one appears on the class rings. Featured on the banner at the bottom are these three words—Brave, Loyal, True. These words describe the ideal student and may be used as a guidepost by all those who come through the doors of this institution.

"Let's take State," was the battle cry the week of State play-offs. We lost the first game of the series by one first down.

A lost contact lens has become almost expected at games.

Coach Hedges is content when "his boys" play hard.

We Play Our Best. Win or Lose . . .

Miss B.

It has been a pleasure being in your speech class this year. I know we have been an experience, but I hope a pleasant one. Best wishes to a bright future.

Love ya,

Sherry Cagular

Approximately two hours were spent each day by the Knights in preparation for a week's game. During this time they perfected the teamwork that placed them second in the district and qualified them for the State play-offs.

Ready to go! Coach Hedges and the Knights were in good spirits before leaving on the bus for New Orleans and the game with the East Jefferson Warriors. The team stayed at the Holiday Inn and were taken to the LSU-Tulane game before returning to Shreveport.

A view of our Castle that students seldom see is the one just before dusk. When dim shadows fall and there is just enough light left to silhouette Woodlawn against the graying sky, one can really see her beauty and her dignity.

Our School Is Great.

Though it is only four years old, Woodlawn is still growing. The large increase in the student population this year made necessary the addition of five temporary classrooms.

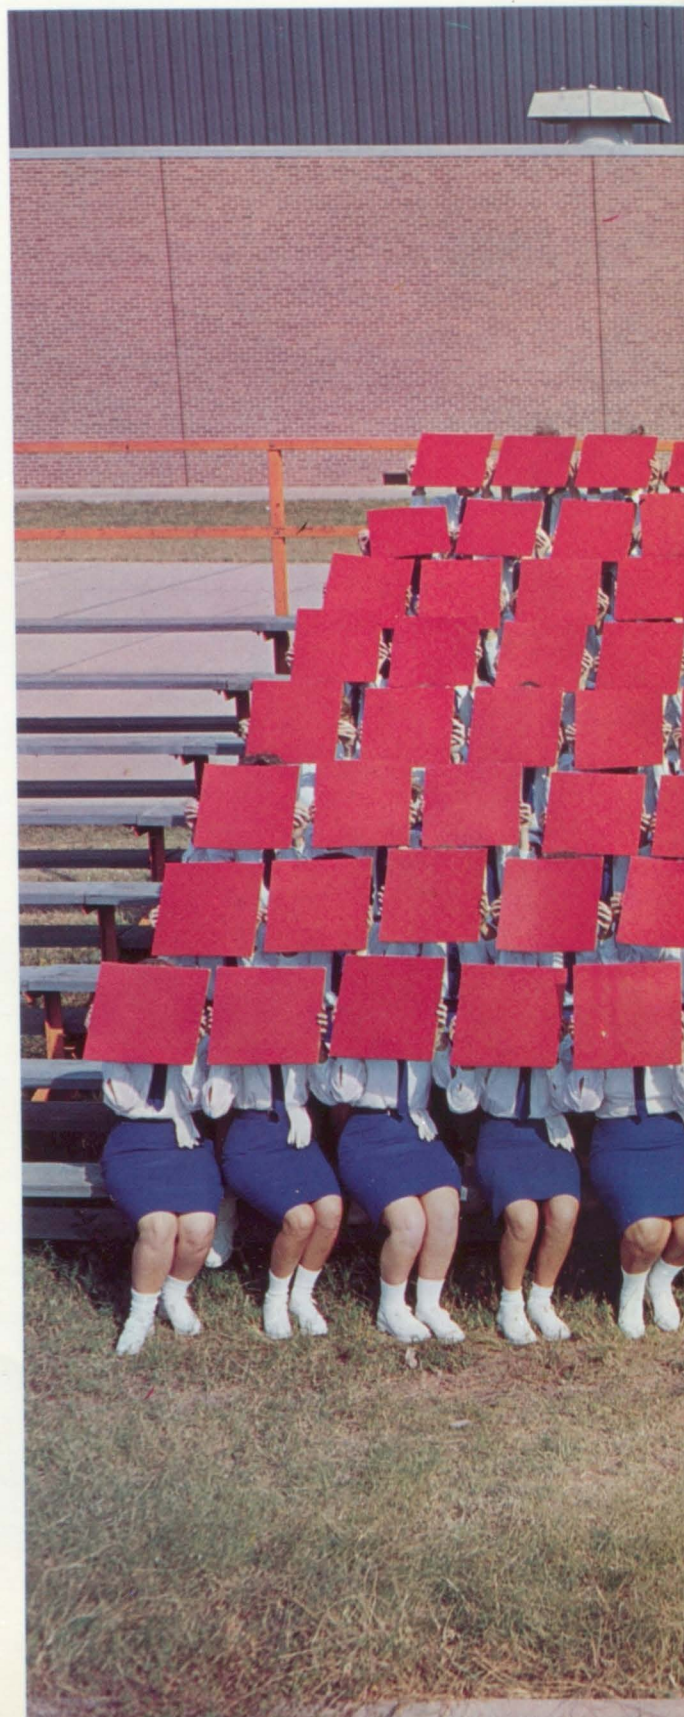

Our main building and gymnasium have an air of majesty and dignity combined with modernistic design.

We Show Our Pride

The Cheerleaders, Band, NDCC, and the Lancerettes boost the "red and blue" by co-operating in organized activities.

by Co-Operation . . .

Installed as Student Council secretaries were Sherry Eaglebarger and Ann Dear.

Pep rallies are an important part of school life during football season. The Band, Cheerleaders, and Lancerettes always have a well-planned assembly for the student body.

and Participation in School Activities.

A popular attraction of the NDCC Carnival this year was, "Egad, What A Cad," a play given by the Drama Club. Included in the cast were Alan Rust and Kitty Collins.

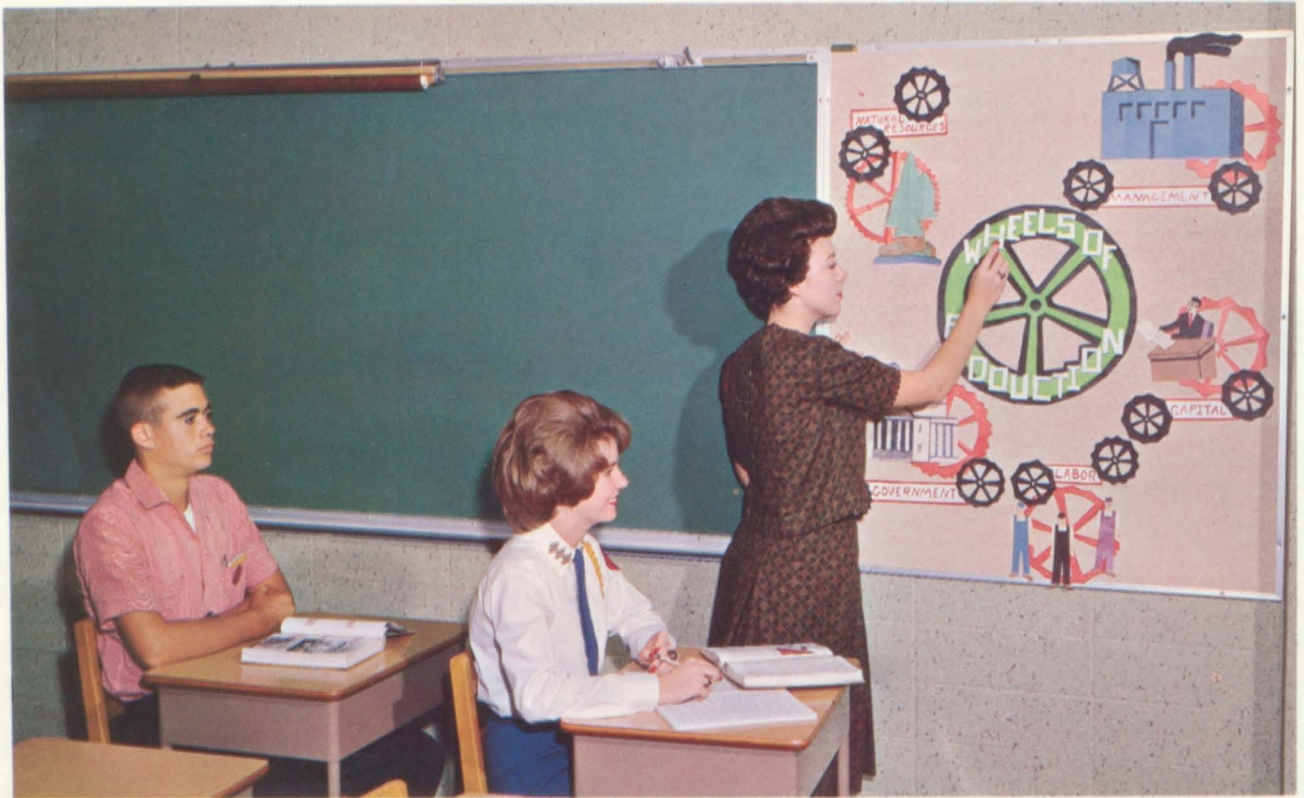

At the NDCC Carnival Mr. Freeman was ready to take on anyone in a tricycle race. "Hotrod Harry" was one of the featured performers of the Quill and Scroll booth.

Dust flies as feet fall into step with the drums during an NDCC parade. At each parade a company is chosen as the best.

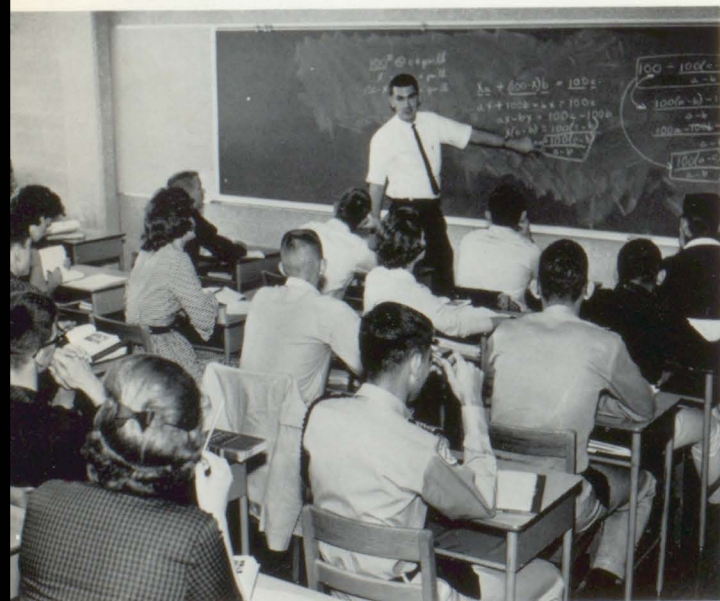

Bulletin boards give added emphasis to textbook material. Jeanette Hutto finishes a display that she made for economics.

Study and Practice Help Us to Become Dedicated Knights

Typical classroom scenes at Woodlawn show a teacher always ready to help and students ready to co-operate.

The NDCC Color Guard keeps us aware of patriotism as they raise and lower the flag daily. Each Wednesday's ceremony has added significance as the Cadets perform in full dress uniform.

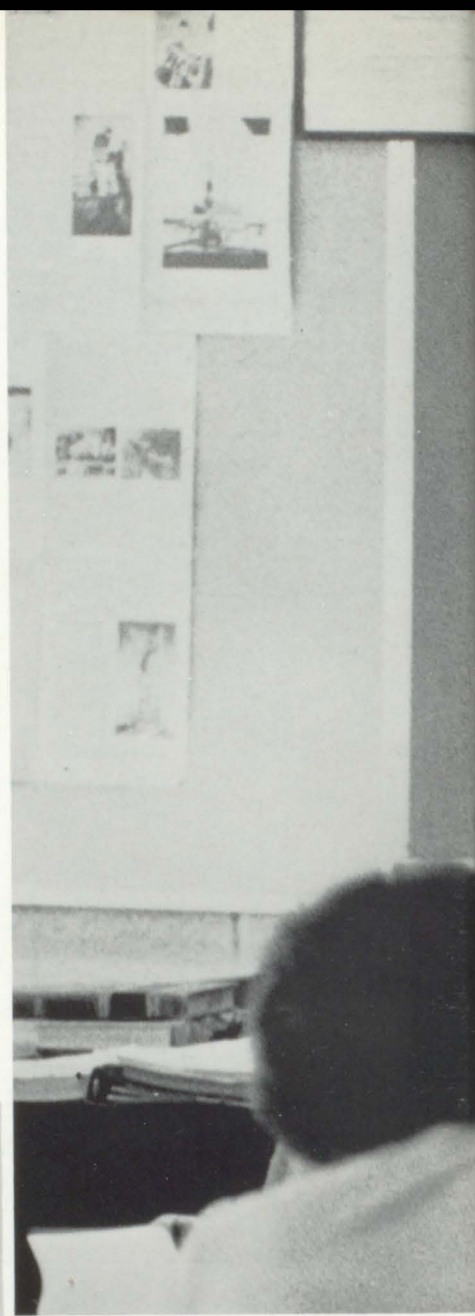

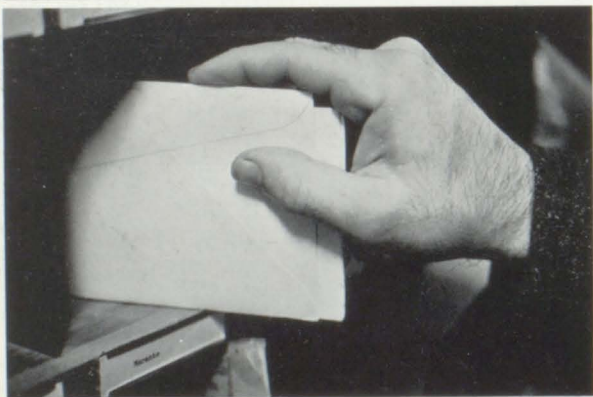

MR. B.

A weird little "come in" greets a visitor as he enters the door in Room 201. This strange sound comes from the voice of Mrs. Susie Whitaker as she speaks into her microphone. She uses this device to save her voice as she has nodes on her vocal chords. She gave up teaching for two years due in part to this throat difficulty. This year the trouble became more acute again, so Mrs. Whitaker invested in a speaker system instead of a winter coat.

Something across the room attracts the attention of Mrs. Martha Plummer, Miss Joyce Jordan, and Mrs. Helen Dear as they relax and eat their lunch in the teachers' lounge.

Teachers Enter Race at Carnival

Dr. D. A. Hiller checks with Avard Sibley to see how he feels. Dr. Hiller has served as team physician for the entire four years of our school's history and has never missed a one of the 44 games the Knights have played during this time.

"Oops!" one might exclaim at seeing Mr. John Wilder riding a tricycle. He was participating in a fun booth at the NDCC carnival. At this event Quill and Scroll sponsored tricycle races with the teachers.

A teacher's school day begins by "signing in" at the main office. Mr. Priddy awaits his turn as Mr. Bennett writes the time of his arrival in the big book.

Mr. Dunn and Mr. McLain chat at the back table as Mrs. Garner, Mrs. Bordelon, and Miss Kyser exchange news of the day in the teacher's dining room.

Students Produce Plays in English

An important part of English III grammar is the study of punctuation. Janet Moon puts the finishing touches and a last thumb tack into a humorous bulletin board which asks an important question.

In senior English, Andra Wilson, Drew Thorne, Gary Pennington, and Sherry Leopard get acquainted with the people and customs of Historic England through the study of English Literature. The bulletin board was created by Jeanette Hutto.

English is the backbone of learning. Without a basic knowledge of reading, comprehension, and expressing ourselves through writing and speaking, other fields of study would be helplessly limited. One can't progress in any subject or profession if he can't read and write properly. English is considered so vital that study of it in some form begins in the first grade and continues for all twelve years spent in school.

English has many facets—grammar, composition, spelling, vocabulary, and literature. Vocabulary supplies us with the keys to effective speaking and writing. Spelling, and grammar make it possible to use those keys properly and successfully. Literature acquaints us with the thoughts and ideas of others that we may in turn broaden our own perspective.

To achieve these objectives, Woodlawn offers many courses in this field. In order to graduate, a student must successfully complete four units of English. Besides English I, II, III, IV, the English Department offers Speech I, II, and III, Business English and Journalism.

Teachers at Woodlawn encourage self-expression and students are urged to develop literary talent. Book reviews, panel discussions, writing, criticizing, and re-writing, are some methods of teaching used by the 13 teachers in this department. Plays and literary interpretation were of special interest in some classes. Students wrote plays and then acted them out in class. One class had a special study on Shakespeare to commemorate his 400th birthday, April 24.

Short stories from literature inspire students to write and produce their own short stories. Mystery abounds as Loretta Joffrion, a rich widow, is questioned by detective Wayne Cooper about the death of her husband, Robert Brown.

Once again Santa makes news. In English II Lynn Malcom, KLAS-TV cameraman; Larry Lance, interviewer; and Jimmy Holland as Santa Claus perform a skit which they also wrote.

"Our Town" by Thornton Wilder is more enjoyable when read aloud. Pat Rice, Jerry Jefcoat, and Mary Greer read their part in junior literature.

Today, in a world strained by tension, countries often change their shape, governments, and name rapidly. Knowing their physical relationships to other countries is significant to our own welfare. Martha Sanders finds the globe a useful study aid in World Geography.

Six Social Studies on Schedule

"Federal Reserve Banks issue Federal Reserve Notes. About three-fourths of the money in circulation consists of Federal Reserve Notes," says Mrs. Baxley as she lectures to one of her Civics classes.

Through the study of General History, Linda Douglas discovers that the culture of the ancient Greeks has made a large impression on our modern world society.

Pat Peterson USMC Sr. 44

Patricia Nolan, Robbie Ashford, and Robert Peterson listen carefully in Economics as Mr. Priddy explains the balance between supply and demand.

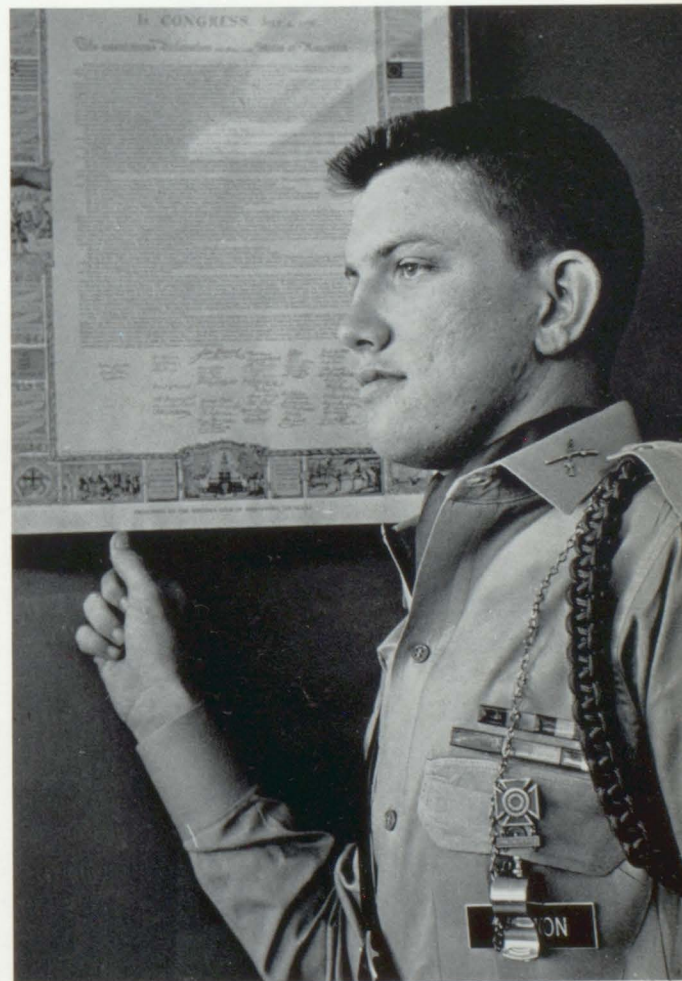

Today, foreign countries are no longer remote corners of the world. All men are striving for a greater understanding, a faster progress, and a more solid peace. Since world relationships are becoming more complex, modern young people need to grasp an understanding of the world situation. And one way to get this understanding is to study history.

Six courses are available to Woodlawn students to help them achieve this purpose. Two of them, Civics and American History, are required for graduation. A field trip to the state capitol in Baton Rouge gave students an appreciation of the study of Civics.

For those with a deeper interest, General History, World History, World Geography and Economics are available electives. Attending the dedication of Phase I of Interstate 20 was an interesting experience for the Economics class.

Social Studies in this school are made interesting through the use of maps, films, verbal reports, questions and answers, lectures and group work. Through these means, Woodlawn students have unlimited opportunities to study not only past history but present history-making events.

While studying American History, Albert Patton realizes a greater appreciation for independence. Documents that laid the foundation of the United States government play a useful part in study. The one shown is a copy of the Declaration of Independence which Miss Coffey displays in her classroom.

In recent years, Plane Geometry in high school has embraced the study of some solid figures. Examining a few of these are Pam Bass and Larry Bazer, students of Miss Speer. Plane Geometry is designed to develop logical thinking patterns and sound reasoning.

Two Math Credits Are Required

Six math courses are offered at Woodlawn and students may choose any two to meet the requirements of two math credits for graduation.

General Math and Business Arithmetic are available to students who are primarily concerned with the everyday functions of mathematics. To the college bound, Algebra I, Algebra II, Geometry and Advanced Math provide a solid background for college courses. The eight members of the Woodlawn staff engaged in teaching math employ class lectures, homework, drills, and board demonstrations to teach these subjects.

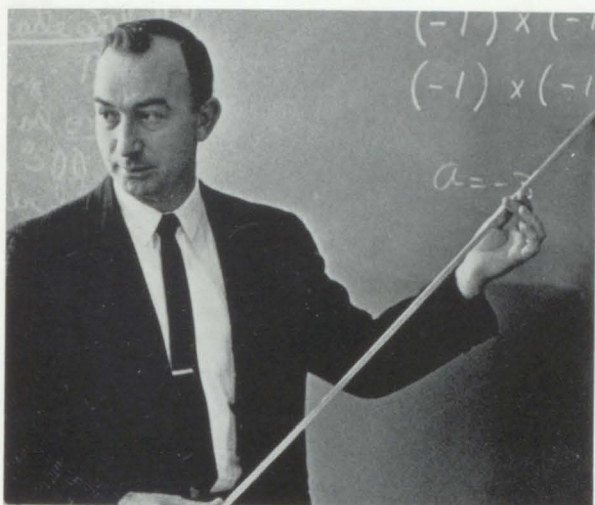

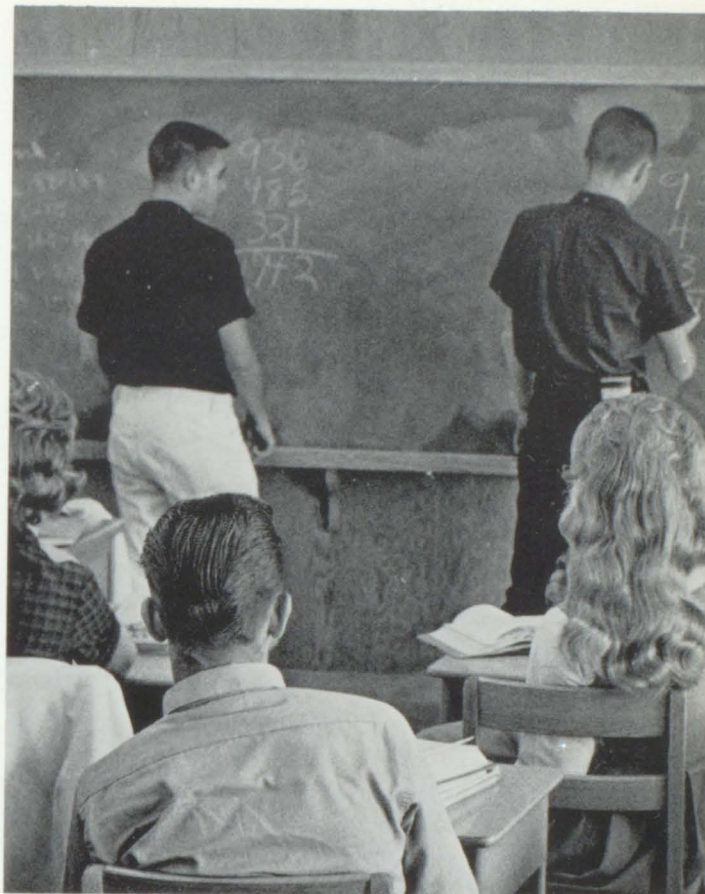

The more complicated maths should help one to develop his reasoning power and clarify his thinking.

Occupational opportunities for capable mathematicians are excellent in fields of architecture, engineering, teaching, accounting and designing.

Mrs. Aiken's General Math students apply themselves to their class work with undivided attention.

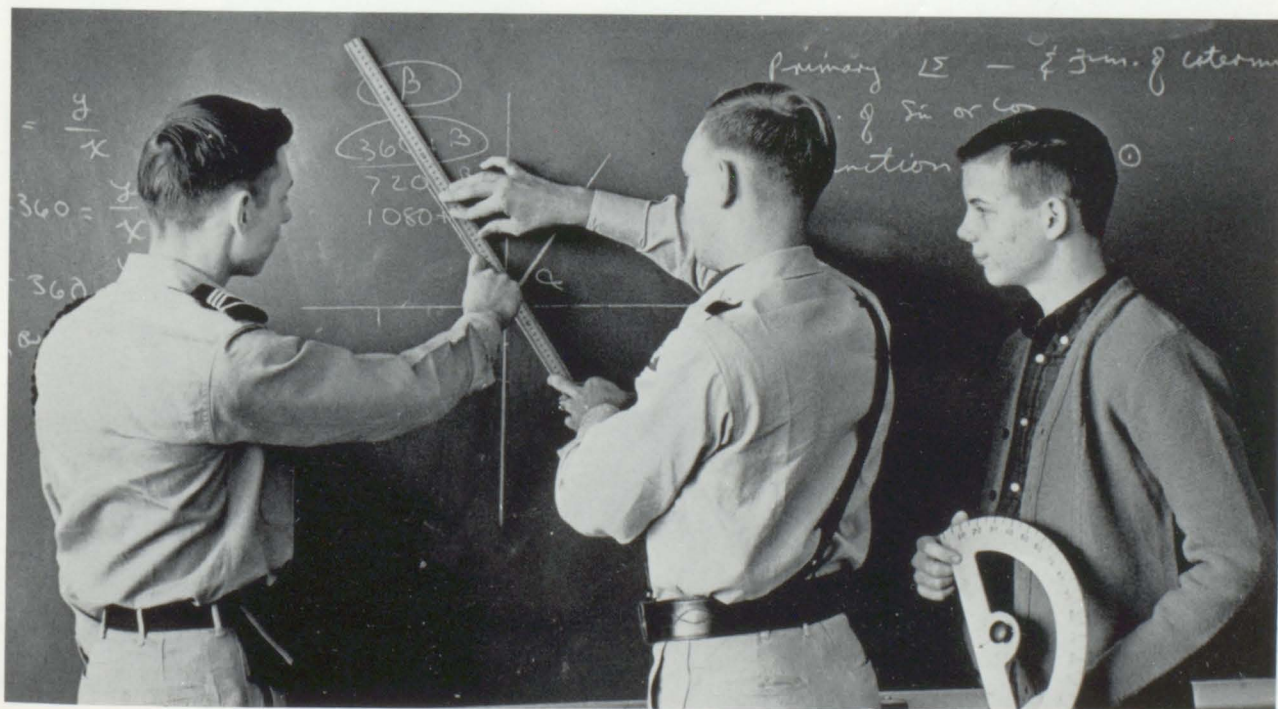

Totaling columns of figures in Business Math increases the adding proficiency of Charles Stinson and Ernie Payne.

Mr. Boydston drills his Algebra I class in the multiplication of sign numbers and the squaring of unknown quantities.

Finding the trigonometric functions of angles on a Cartesian co-ordinate system proves to be a challenging problem to Advanced Math students, Danny Knight, James Bentley, and Mark Thompson.

Science Taught by 9 Teachers

Primitive man gazed upon the universe and wondered. From that first spark of curiosity has come an endless tide of discoveries and inventions. Since that time, science has grown and divided into innumerable departments and fields of interest. Recognizing the value of scientific development, Woodlawn requires that two units of science be successfully completed. Six courses offered at Woodlawn are: General Science, a basic course in scientific principles; Biology, the study of life and the factors affecting it; Chemistry, the analyzation of chemical compounds and the elements; and Physics, the physical science dealing with matter, energy, and the transformations of energy. Biology and General Science require no previous concentration of study. Chemistry and Physics, however, require a solid background in Algebra and other mathematics.

The science teachers employ numerous aids to make the courses interesting. Chemistry and Physics experiments intrigue the young learners as they do lab work. Simple experiments in General Science aid comprehension while dissection permits diversion and purposeful learning in Biology.

LEFT: Dissection of a fetal pig exposing the location of the more vital organs sparks the interest of Biology students, Mel Sojka, Shelly Carter, George Christian and Susan Simmons.

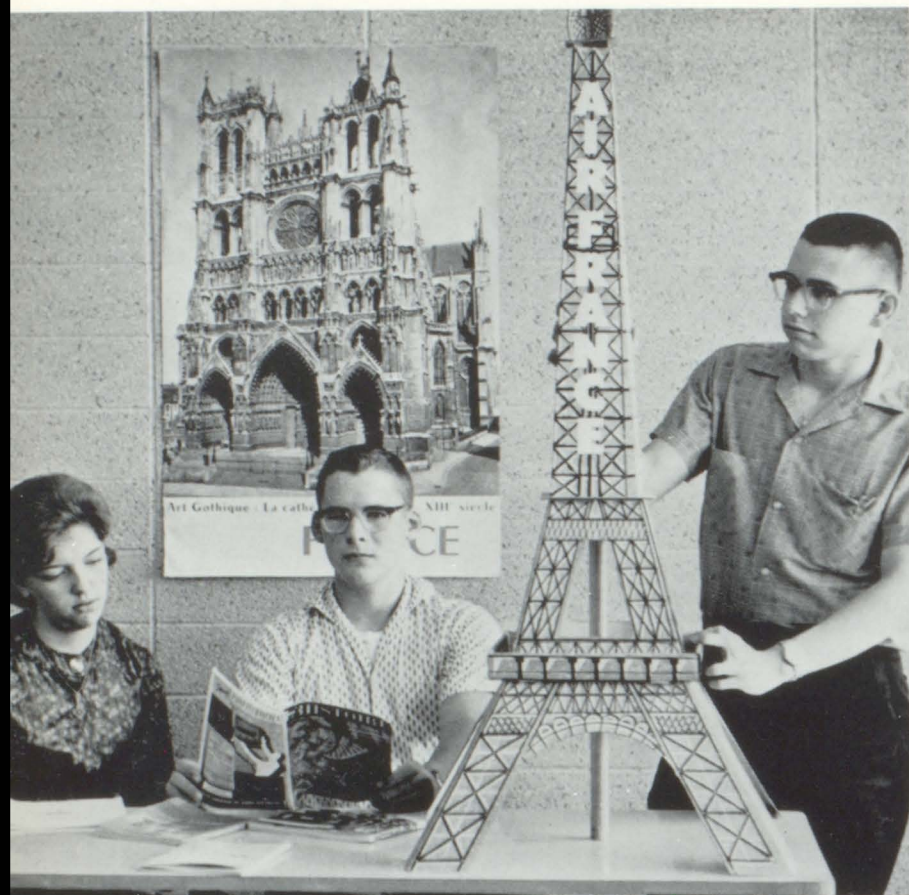

In Mr. White's Physics class, Bill Lowe, Rex Lockwood, and Russel Poole perform an experiment concerning the composition of forces using a force table and paper.

LEFT: The expanding and contracting effect of heat on air and water is demonstrated by Cheryl Malone and Renda Vick through an experiment which they performed in Mrs. Hick's General Science class. RIGHT: Billy Riggs, Glenn Edwards, and Dale Green perform a chemistry experiment involving the preparation of hydrogen by the action of sulfuric acid and zinc.

French students get a taste of France other than food and hairdos. Ann Stegall, Glen Barnette, and Eddie Jordan gain intriguing insight into the lives of the French people in Mr. Goodgion's French II class.

Communications Aid Understanding

Lewis Hughes, acting as Cicero, points an accusing finger toward Jan Hopkins, playing Cataline, who is being tried for starting a revolution against the Roman state. The jury consisting of Mike Reeves, Linda Dunham, John Ramsey, Pam Reid, Sharon Paxton, Becky Gullledge, and Anita McGuffin is undecided, but apparently they disapprove. The students are members of Mrs. Curlin's Latin III class.

On her beat, Journalism student and HERALD Reporter, Barbara Foster, interviews Mrs. Tidwell, Spanish Club sponsor.

Gerald Box gains experience in public speaking as he speaks concerning the value of advertising. An advertisement from a magazine illustrates a point to his Speech I class.

Better Communication promotes better understanding. Written and spoken words have great power if properly used. Speech classes promote good speaking habits and the art of persuasive talk. Speech I is designed primarily to help students overcome the fear of an audience. Speech II is mostly dramatic interpretation, while Speech III is a debate course designed to develop reasoning power. Journalism tries to achieve the same goals through clear, forceful writing.

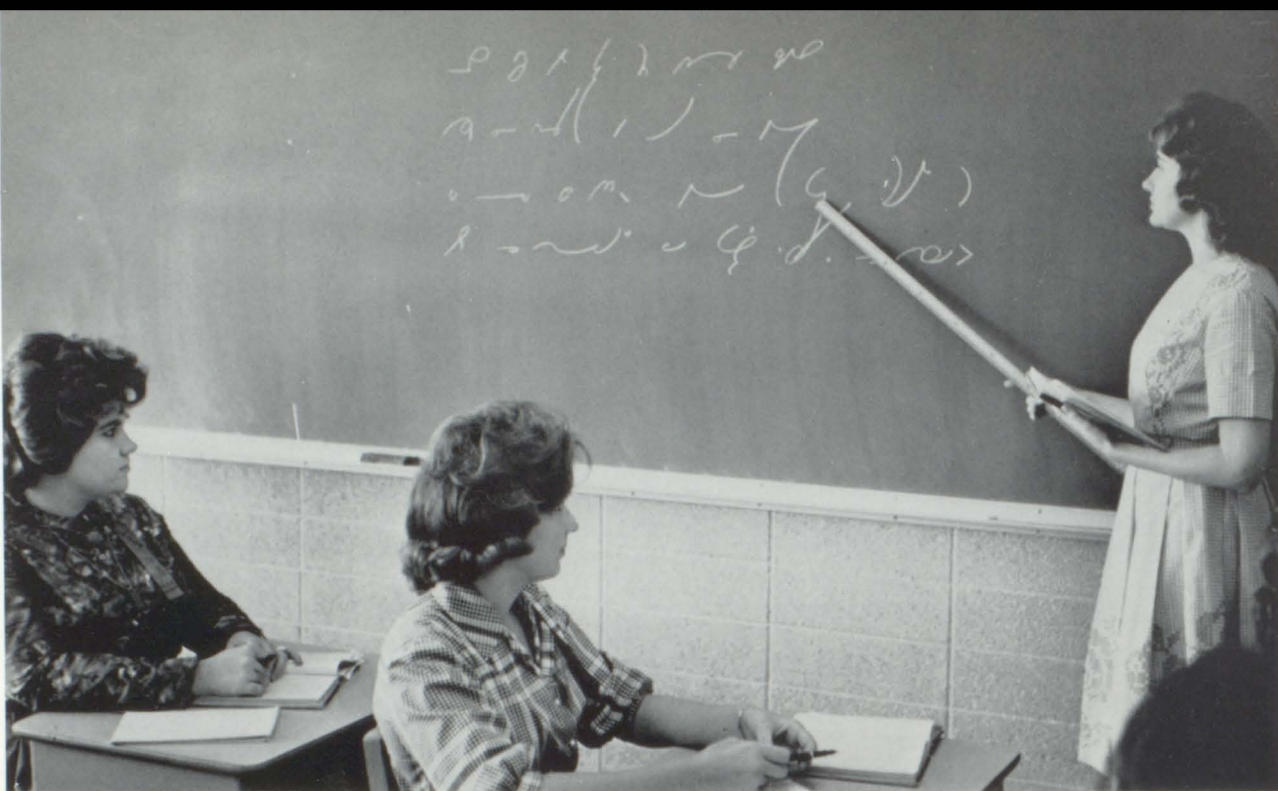

To meet the challenge of this complex world, Woodlawn offers three foreign languages. Latin, an excellent college preparatory course, is enriched by class dramatization. The classes use Latin Week to display posters and projects showing some of the Roman contributions to our civilization. The teaching of Spanish is enlivened by using records and tapes to learn correct pronunciation. The study of French enables one to converse, write personal letters, and read French newspapers.

Our society demands people who can communicate, and fields of opportunity are many. There is work for journalists, public relations experts, speech therapists, air line workers, and translators. Regardless of the language being used, this quote of one of the speech teachers sums it up. "Regardless of how much you know, if you cannot communicate your ideas orally, you might as well know nothing."

Mitchell Feazel and Sheryl Lawrence listen to Spanish records and repeat the words to improve their ability to speak the language.

800 Enrolled in Business Subjects

Some of the more practical studies Woodlawn offers are its business courses. A student majoring in business can easily leave high school and attain a good job with no further training, or he can use his high school work as a basic foundation for more intensive study. Typing, Shorthand I and II, Business Math, Business English, Bookkeeping, and Clerical Office Practice are the seven business subjects available.

This year typing has become more prominent than ever in the minds of students as typing teachers made extensive use of musical records. As students keep pace with the beat of the music, speed and accuracy are improved. Teachers also use timed writings, letter problems and drills to teach typing. A course in typing is necessary before one can study Shorthand or Clerical Office Practice.

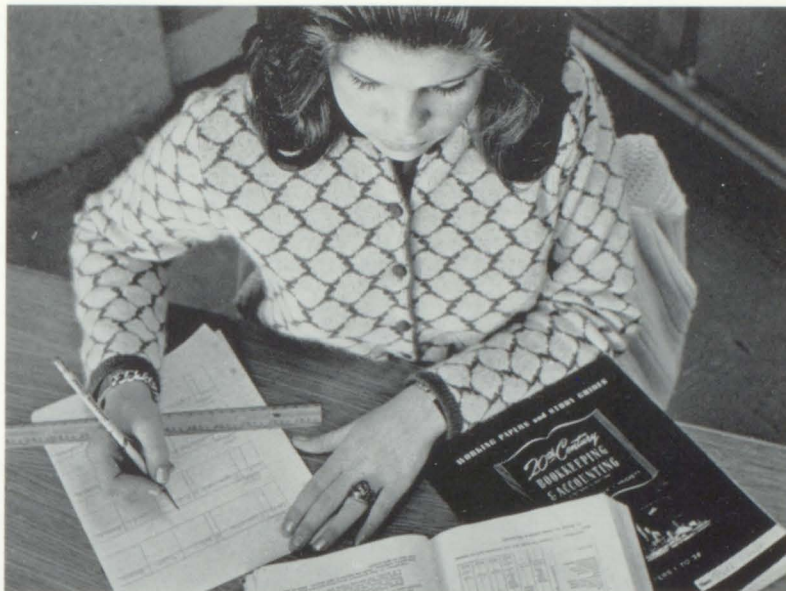

Bookkeeping acquaints the student with a basic knowledge of keeping accounts and financial records. One considering a career in accounting would find this subject helpful.

Clerical Office Practice uses typing skill extensively as the student prepares letters, manuscripts, invoices, legal papers, and other work familiar to offices. Operation of the calculator, adding machine, dictaphone, and electric typewriter are also taught in this course.

RIGHT: Pam Ferguson, realizing the value of records, draws a sales journal in Bookkeeping. This journal, which contains customer's accounts, stresses the need for accuracy to a business student.

LEFT: Oral drills during class periods greatly increase shorthand proficiency. Miss Nickels points out the word, provide, and the class, including Linda Brown, and Donna Griffin, responds by reading the word aloud.

RIGHT: A steady, even stroking pattern is the key to higher speed and greater accuracy in typing. All four typing teachers this year have emphasized this by using special rhythm records that range in speed from 16 to 80 words per minute.

Variety Courses Train for Life

It has been said that variety is the spice of life. Expanded interests help to make well-rounded people, so a few elective courses in a school curriculum add variety to a student's day. Electives are subjects that are not required for graduation. Pupils pursue those of their own choosing along with required studies.

Many of these subjects such as General Metals, Graphic Arts, and Woodwork are practical courses giving students actual practice in a trade profession. Music and Art encourage self-expression and creativeness besides supplying background knowledge of the fine arts. The art department contributes artistic work to various school functions such as Homecoming and the Accolade Pageant.

Driver's Education encourages safe driving and each student is personally instructed in the handling of a car.

Other electives such as Agriculture and the several courses offered in Home Economics may help one to prepare himself adequately to manage a home or a farm.

Carolyn Hay, Gloria Veillon, and Wayne Williams learn the latest in safe driving techniques from Coach Adcox, Driver Education teacher.

Learning the best way to "do-it-yourself" are Wayne Young, Charles Gaines, and Billy Hays as they do soldering work in General Metals.

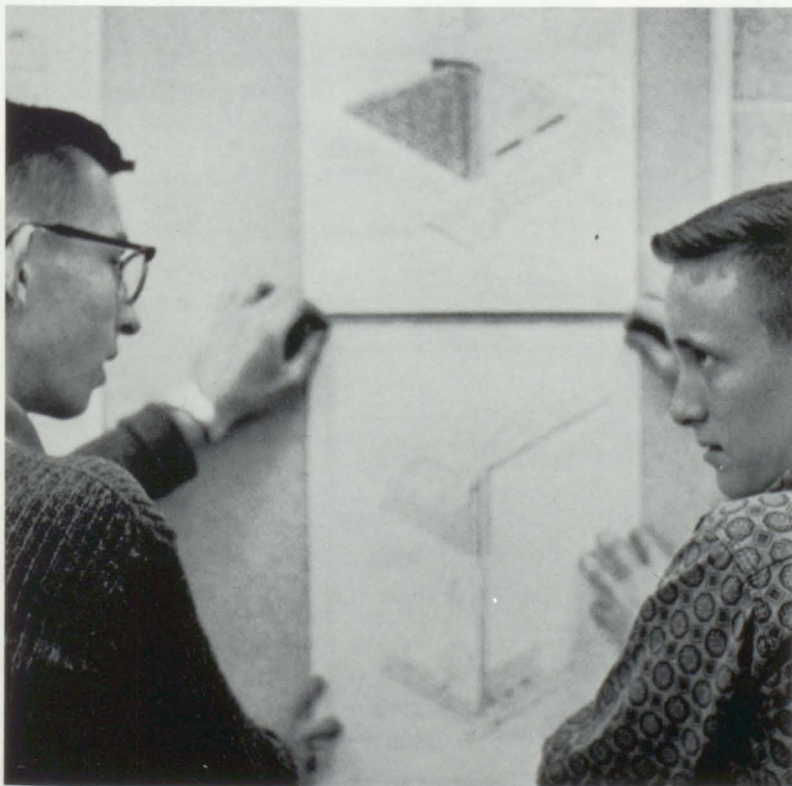

Other jobs in Home Economics may be more glamorous, but washing dish towels is something that must be done also. Priscilla Goff, Joyce Williams, Ann Campbell, and Carolyn Meador fold the cloths as they take them from the dryer.

In Mechanical Drawing II, T. Wayne Morrison and Larry Feazel display their drawings on the board. The drawings illustrate the wall section and foundation of a house as they would appear if the house were sliced in half.

NDCC cadets participate in the "Retreat and Color Ceremony" held each Friday. This ceremony helps to show respect toward our National Colors and increases awareness of our American heritage.

A gun rack which Richard Murphy made in his Woodwork class will be complete when he glues the felt in place.

Studies in Vocational Agriculture are becoming increasingly scientific and more technical. A class of third year boys is learning to test soils. The purpose of a soil test is to determine the acidity of the soil as well as the need of various plant foods.

Drawing still life has its problems, but Mack Ramsey has demonstrated his ability as he completes this charcoal drawing in Art class.

Music Appreciation class offers an opportunity to learn background material about music and composers. Susy Stoll, Ronnie Atwood, John McIntosh, and Elba Ann Reeves wait to hear an album as Mr. Simmons summarizes its main features.

Mr. Richard Priddy, Student Council sponsor, and President Wayne Greer review the program for the state convention. The Knights' Round Table presided over the session as President of the Louisiana Association of Student Councils.

Student Council Presides at LASC

"Today's Visions — Tomorrow's Realities" was the theme of the 14th Annual State Student Council Convention held at Byrd High School, October 18-19. Since Woodlawn was serving as State President, Wayne Greer was the presiding officer. Wayne introduced the dignitaries and delivered a speech on the theme of the convention.

Several members went to the LASC Workshop at Lafayette last summer and were selected as outstanding participants. Three people represented the group at the Southern Association meeting at Neville High School in Monroe last fall.

Many projects emphasizing school improvement are under the supervision of the council. A paper drive has been in progress at different times during the year. A Teacher Appreciation Day was held in the cafeteria early in the school year where new teachers were introduced. A Hobo Day was sponsored and members washed cars and cleaned yards. Operation of the school store comes under the supervision of the council. Voting machines for spring elections are obtained through their efforts. They plan the Homecoming Dance and the Knights' Ball. Other activities include chapel each Wednesday morning and the decorating of a school Christmas tree. A special project this year was the sponsoring of a contest to draw an official shield design for the school.

In addition to the officers, who are elected by the entire school, the membership is made up of one representative and one alternate elected from each home room.

Sponsors, Mr. Priddy and Miss Jane Cunningham, check on the paper that has been collected for the council-sponsored paper drive. Income from this project was used to finance such things as the Knights' Ball and convention trips.

Paper Drive Nets Big Results

This old jalopy was used in the car smash which the council had at the NDCC Carnival. Teachers' names were painted around on the car and for 10 cents a smash a student could bang on any name he chose. Two hundred twenty people tried their hand at it.

"This really does taste good," says Foreign Exchange Student Barbara Cech to other council members as they sample the food and put the final touches to their Christmas arrangement in the lounge for the teachers.

During the Christmas season, the Student Council buys and decorates a tree for the foyer of the auditorium. The bulbs and decorations which are put on the tree by Butch Box and other members of the council are furnished by Woodlawn students.

Candelight adds a glow to the ceremony when student council officers are installed annually. Officers who are currently serving gathered around the installation table with the outgoing officials after the program was held in assembly last spring.

Student Council Selects School Crest

Gerald Box, chairman of the Shield Committee, discusses the meaning of the symbols in the design with other members of his group. The Student Council sponsored a contest whereby all Woodlawn students were given an opportunity to submit a shield to be considered for selection as an official school emblem. This committee, along with the advice and approval of several teachers, selected two designs—those of Juanita Beene and Mark Estes—and combined them. Viewing one of the sketches with Gerald are other committee members, Henry Hungerbeeler, Shirley Grunwald, Mark Estes, and Frances Wood.

RIGHT: Sarah Grunwald and Wayne Greer are interested in hearing Barbara Cech's impression of the SASC meeting. These three represented Woodlawn at the Southern Association meeting held at Neville High School in Monroe, La. ## Herald Staff Has New Exchange Plan

For the first time, the HERALD staff has participated in a new exchange program with other high schools of the city. The schools exchange thirty to forty papers for their own reporters and editors to study.

The seven editors put out the entire first paper and then supervise the other editions. The responsibility of the remaining papers falls mainly on the forty-seven reporters. Senior editors will make up a senior page in the last edition.

Toward the end of the year a reporter may apply for an editor's position. He has several choices and must make a written request. Selections are made by the old editors and the sponsors.

The HERALD'S main purpose is to train students in the publication of a tabloid paper, to give them experience in news writing, make-up and creativity, and to publish school news.

HERALD Editor-in-Chief, Charlotte Hudson, and Advisor, Miss Lucretia Holmes, display a reminder of a forthcoming edition of the paper. Notes marked on the calendar indicate that these two had several busy days to get the Thanksgiving edition published.

Herald salesmen, Byron Jeter and Dinah Mosley, receive a stack of papers for sale from Miss Margetta Spears, advisor for the circulation staff.

Greg Womack serves as manager of this staff and counts out change on Herald sale day to Joy Spillers, Susan Thompson, and Libby Smart.

Herald Circulation Staff Organized

Someone else writes the news, but these thirteen people see that the WOODLAWN HERALD is distributed on sale day. On these paper-selling days, members report to school at 7:45 a.m. and delve into their task. The first item of business is to count papers into stacks of 200 each.

Members work in pairs, and each pair is given 200 papers to sell in assigned rooms. Generally 1200 papers are sold each time. The HERALD usually sells for ten cents a copy, but prices vary according to the size of the edition.

After distributing the papers, members return to their first period study hall to count their change. Making a report to the manager finishes their job until another paper is published.

This is the first year of operation for this group as the editorial staff has circulated the paper previously.

Lined up and waiting for Tyson Johnson to hand out the papers for them to sell are the following staff members—SEATED: Bonnie Lewis, Pam Call, Dana Bowden. STANDING: Susan Simpson, Nathan Williford, and Arthur Luttrell.

Herald Ad Staff Has 11 Members

HERALD Ad salesmen are really public relations people because they are constantly in contact with business firms in this area. Many inches of advertising space are generally sold by them for each issue.

Plotting the space for the ads is done after they are sold. Additional time is spent in proofreading them before publication. There is also the constant job of billing and collecting from advertisers.

Each member must keep a C average and sell $75 worth of ads. If they do this and meet the other requirements, they may attain membership in Quill and Scroll and be inducted in a special assembly.

The publications banquet, held in the spring, is a high light of the school year for HERALD Ad Staff members.

It is an interesting job to plan the ads for an edition of the newspaper. Checking on the number of inches sold for one are Mary Kaffka, Butch Lyles, Maxine Harris and Cookie Hollowell.

Officers of this organization spend quite a bit of time keeping necessary records. Seen in a typical busy moment are Sandra Deville, Secretary; Amy Linder, Assistant Manager; Jeanette Serio, Bookkeeper; Mrs. Margaret Kirkland, Advisor; and Linda Dunham, Manager.

Accolade Receives

"All-American" read the certificate from the National Scholastic Press Association regarding its rating of the 1963 ACCOLADE. Thirteen staff members and the entire school were jubilant at this news. It also rated a high A score from the National School Yearbook Association and a First Place Award from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Total number of hours spent in planning are never calculated, but if they were, the result would be a staggering figure. However, staff members never think of the amount of work involved; they think only of producing a yearbook that will be treasured.

These people, selected by the advisor, meet one hour daily at school. Homework is also a must for those who do a thorough job of their assignment.

Pictures and copy blocks did not just happen to fit the spaces they occupy. Detailed planning is necessary to arrange them so. Do you like the result?

Early planning by an advisor is necessary in yearbook work. Miss Willa Smith, shown in a company library, visited Dallas, Texas, last fall and received assistance for this book from officials of the publishing company.

Robbie Ashford, ACCOLADE Editor-in-Chief, searched through many other books for ideas for this edition. She also received helpful material from the company libraries when she visited Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas last October.

Accolade Ad Staff Sells 200 Ads in '64

Without the income from advertisements, we could not publish an ACCOLADE. Therefore the duty performed by these people is a very important one. Work for them begins early in August as they contact businessmen in their designated areas. After the sales campaign is closed, their duty turns to billing and collecting from advertisers.

To be a permanent member of this group, one must keep a C average and sell $150 in ads by the end of the first six weeks. Including all sizes, 200 ads were sold for the 1964 ACCOLADE.

SEATED: Jeannette Hutto, Sharon Rogers, Toni Williams. STANDING: Cheryl Malone, Bonita Montgomery, Mary Morris.

Mrs. Jackie Barr, Advisor, distributes receipt books to Donna Hand and Lyndal Ursery on the day of an AC-COLADE sale.

Circulation Staff Has Record Sale

A stack of over 60 huge boxes might frighten some people, but this small group of seven awaits the arrival of the precious cargo within them. For you see—it is their job to count, check and distribute all 1450 books ordered this year. Of all their duties, they probably enjoy this one the most.

In order to reach this final job, however, they have had many days of preparation. Members advertise all yearbook sales, collect all money on sale days, and keep records.

Juniors and seniors with a C average, a first period study hall, and a desire to serve their school are selected for this group.

They remember the early morning greeting of the driver who delivered the books last year. When he saw so many students at school at 6:00 a.m. he said, "Hey, kids! This isn't candy that I have in these boxes!" Maybe he didn't understand, but at that time books were far more precious than candy.

Becky Gulledge checks the boxes of completed yearbooks as they are brought in by Dennie Hollowell and Terry Creech.

"Leave space in your budget and order a yearbook" reads the poster being tacked up by Beth Craft and Linda Coulter.

32 on Football Program Ad Staff

Manager Patricia Nolan; Assistant Managers Judy Smith, Mary Morris, Amy Linder.

Graduating members of this group recommend girls with personality, dependability, and a willingness to work, from which their successors are chosen. The advisor, Mrs. Adams, makes the final selections which are in turn approved by the faculty.

Membership is maintained by selling at least $100 in ads and selling programs at all home games.

A record 7000 programs were sold this year at seven home games. A bottle of perfume was awarded to the two girls selling the highest number.

A highlight of this year was a trip as a group to New Orleans to cheer Woodlawn as they battled East Jefferson in the state playoffs.

Selling ads and the finished program is only a part of their job. The girls also draw the layouts for the ads and later proofread the pages. They must get a new line up for the two teams to the printer before each game.

Quill and Scroll membership rewards those girls who do outstanding work and meet the requirements of that organization.

By selling 825 programs at seven home games, Mary and Amy gained recognition and a bottle of perfume. They were proclaimed champions at the annual get-together for this group just before Christmas.

Counting receipts from program sales on game night consumes the time of Mrs. Adams and Patricia Nolan. They spend the first quarter of a game adding the totals. It might take longer if they didn't get assistance each time from Mrs. Adams' husband. Mr. Ernie Adams has missed helping his wife count the program money only once in the four year history of our school. He was out of town on business and could not get back for the Minden game.

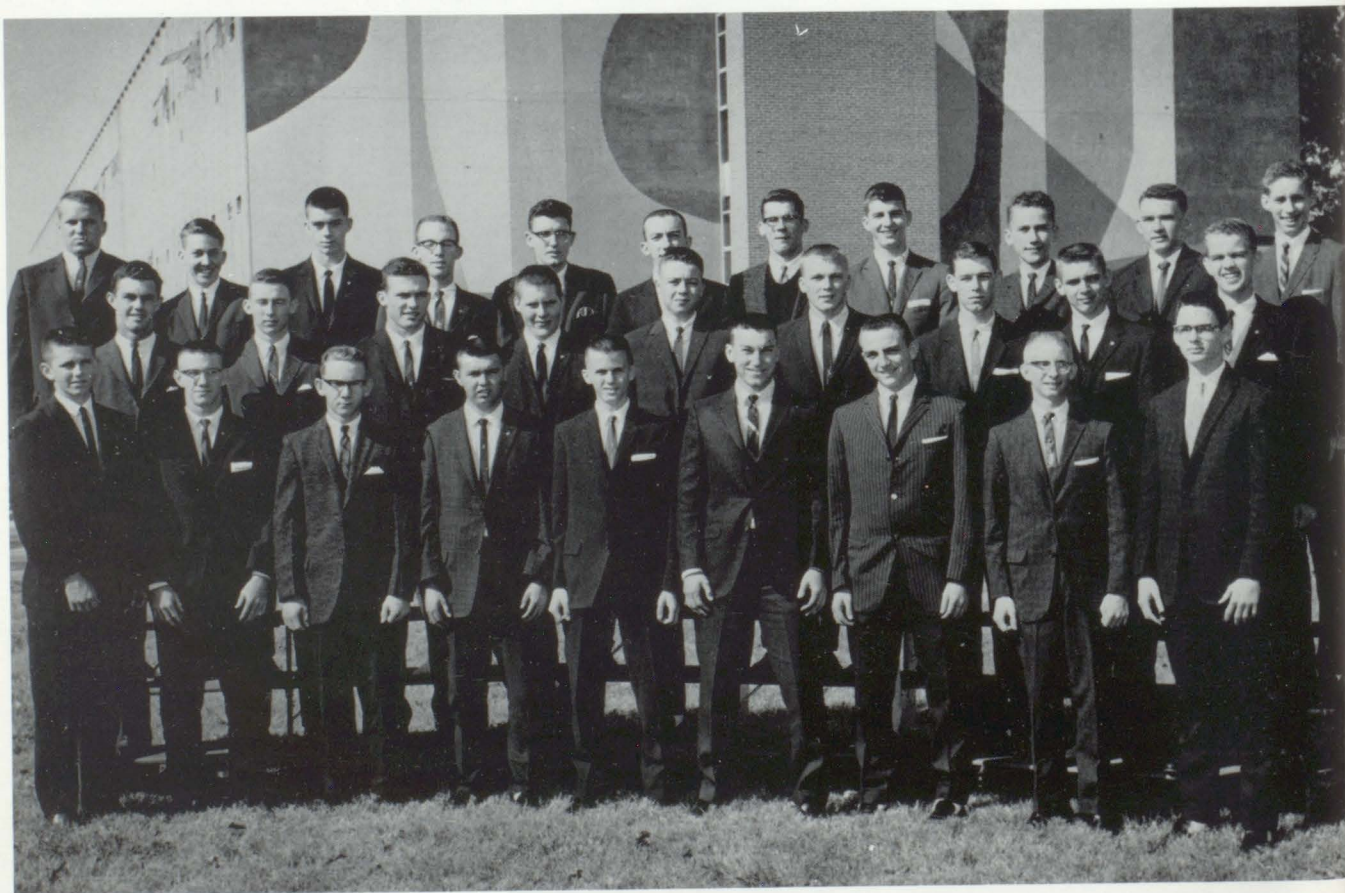

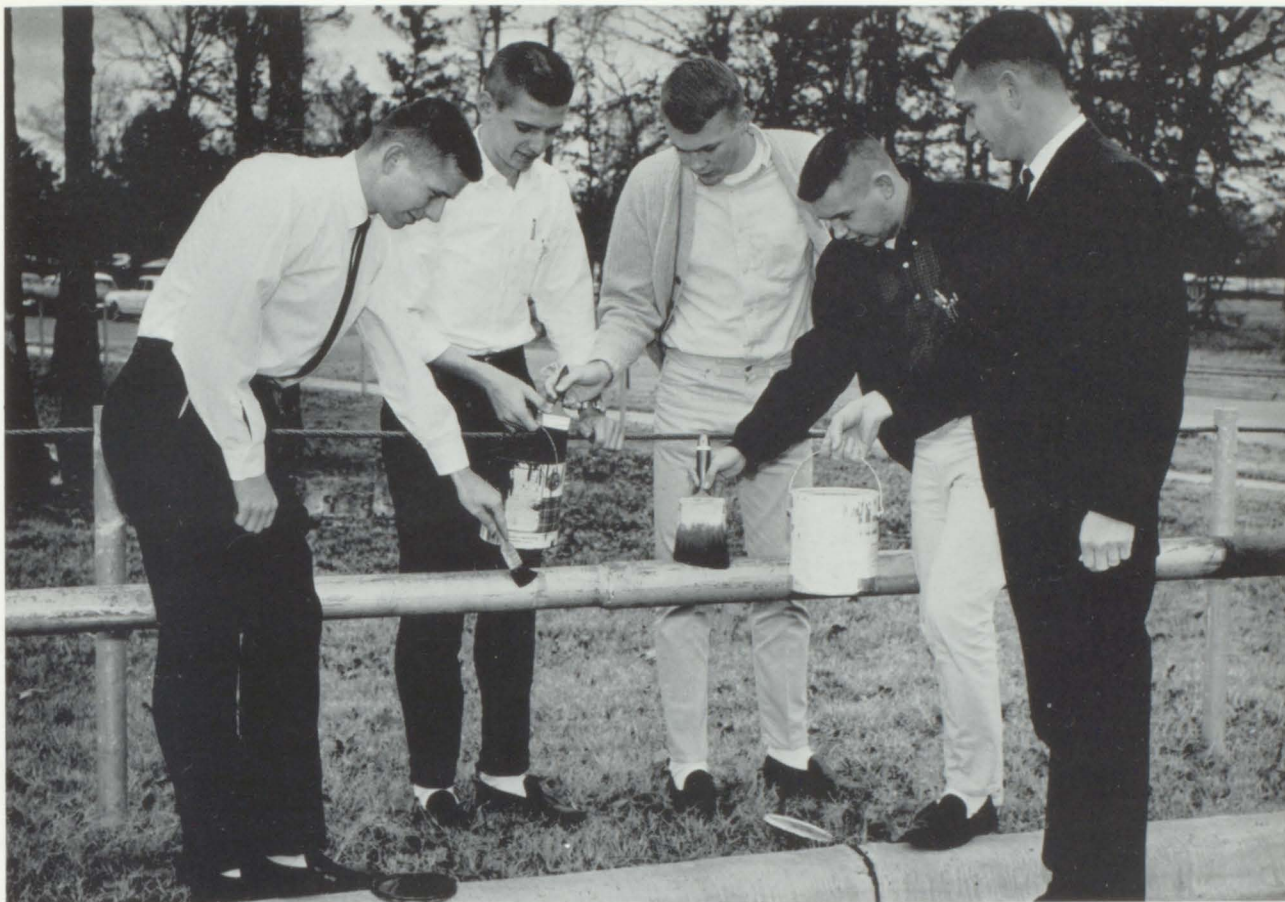

Key Club members, Al Farr and Craig Giddens, participate in a school activity by presenting tags for which donations were given to help finance a future foreign exchange student. Woodlawn students, Mary Bird and Johnnie Hall, receive a tag as they enter the stadium gate on the way to see the Knights play.

Mr. John D. Wilder, Advisor, holds the paint bucket as Jack Harper, Vice-President; Dennis Newbury, Treasurer; Mike Johnson, President; and Gary Pennington, Secretary, put strips of luminous paint on the parking lot gates to prevent people from running into them at night.

Key Club Paints Parking Lot Gates

Service is the motto of this group of young men and their sponsors who meet each Tuesday at 7:45 a.m. before the school day begins. The club is designed to develop leadership qualities and to prepare members for useful citizenship.

Members helped in one school project by selling tags at a football game to help finance a future foreign exchange student. Another project was painting strips of luminous paint on the parking lot gates. They served as a travel committee for our foreign exchange student to see that she had transportation when it was needed. They also gave one book to the school library, which they have done yearly.

Each Thursday a few of the club's twenty-nine members attend a luncheon at the Cedar Grove Methodist Church as guests of the Kiwanis Club. In the spring, the members played hosts to the Kiwanis Club in the school cafeteria.

To obtain membership in this organization, a boy must have a C+ average, be recommended by the faculty, and be voted in by the members. The sponsors are also elected by the members.

Red Cross Collects 12 Boxes of Food

Many needy people have a happier Christmas each year because of the efforts of the Red Cross members. As a result of a food drive early in December, twelve boxes of food were collected and distributed. Five families, recommended by the downtown Red Cross office and the faculty, shared in this abundance of staple groceries.

The Woodlawn teachers were treated to free coffee in the lounge for an entire week as this organization paid the week's bill for them for a Christmas gift.

One representative and one alternate are elected to represent each homeroom, but any student may become a member by contributing twenty-five cents. This year the organization offered free cokes to any homeroom obtaining 100% membership. Enough rooms achieved this distinction to cost the Red Cross eleven cases of cokes.

Mum corsages for homecoming are ordered through and delivered by this group. Another school service project they sponsor is the compiling of the student directory. This year they are going to add a supplement to the 1962-63 directory. The supplement will contain the names of sophomores and transfer students.

Each summer a few of the members serve as volunteer workers at the Veteran's Hospital.

Food was collected in each homeroom and Red Cross members gathered it into a central location for packing. Mary Emmons stacks some of the canned food received.

Audio-Visual workers include 30 boys and one girl. The boys operate the 16 mm. film projectors, film strips, slide projectors, tape recorders, and record players for various teachers as they need them for a class. The girl keeps the magazines in order.

A different group is in charge each period every day. They all work on a voluntary basis.

RIGHT: Major Terry of the Caddo Parish Sheriff's Department spoke at a Safety Council meeting and discussed safety in the use of rifles.

Safety Council Directs Hall Traffic

Checking fire extinguishers, directing school fire drills, selling and checking car stickers, and encouraging traffic safety in the halls at school are some of the activities of this group. They have worked to relieve some of the traffic congestion caused by the rush of students from school in the afternoon. This has been done by having only one-way traffic on the street by the school until the rush is ended.

This club was organized to co-operate in the development of an appropriate youth safety organization under the supervision of the parish schools.

Members attended a city safety conference at Fair Park, some representatives attended the Louisiana Youth Safety Conference last August at Bunkie, La., the Governor's Safety Conference in New Orleans last December, and the Southern Safety Conference in March. Sandy Davison and Johnette Dowden served as discussion leaders at the New Orleans meeting.

Cafeteria Workers Help Serve 1400

The cafeteria workers render service to the school daily by helping put the food out on the counters. Students serve at different locations in this job. Several usually work at the cold plate counter while others put out desserts, straighten milk cartons, and check on the bread supply. They work during all lunch shifts from 11:15 a.m. to 1 p.m. helping to serve 1400 people daily.

Store Workers Sell Pennants

Keeping the coke machines filled is one duty that is assigned to the people who work in the school store. The workers in the commissary are there on a voluntary basis as they work during their study period. It is also their duty to keep a supply of paper, pencils, pennants, car decals, and other supplies students need during the day. Typing paper is one item that goes quickly as the several hundred typists purchase it almost daily.

The store is operated under the supervision of the Student Council. The actual accounting and running of it is the responsibility of the council treasurer.

Office Workers Get Absentee List

Student office workers save the office personnel thousands of extra steps during each school day. All workers volunteer to serve in the office during their study hall period.

Each morning they collect the absentee cards and then deliver the morning sheet. They answer the telephone in the office and deliver messages. When students check out, they find their card in the file and call all the student's teachers to notify them that the student has left school. During fifth period they deliver the afternoon sheet to each teacher. If an assignment sheet is sent home to a student who will be out of school due to illness, an office worker gets the necessary assignments from each teacher.

Library Workers Have Many Duties

Student helpers may be found working in the library all periods of the day. The library assistants must maintain at least a C grade and be recommended by some teacher. These volunteer workers give up their study hall period to render this service to the school. Their work includes checking books in and out, straightening books on the shelves, arranging magazines, sorting library mail, checking students in and out of the library and totaling the circulation for each day.

History Club Adds Books to Library

Last year the Zachary History Club began a custom of presenting one book a year to the school library. The first one it gave was entitled "The White House and Its 33 Families." Another one will be contributed this year, but at this time it has not been selected.

Coin collecting was the subject of discussion for one program as Mr. Charles Crowder talked to the club members and showed them some of his prize coins. Another program that held the intense interest of the group was an illustrated talk by Mrs. Marilyn Coil. She showed colored slides made during her trips to Europe for the past two summers.

DE Program Has 52 Participants

Distributive Education, in which fifty-two Woodlawn students are enrolled this year, is a vocational training program of juniors and seniors. It offers a practical plan for our school to cooperate with business in training students under actual work conditions.

Mr. Clyde Self serves as the Woodlawn co-ordinator of in-school instruction and supervised training on the job. All of the DE students are employed and all receive wages for this job-training experience. However, the primary purpose of this course is to provide training for a student in the vocational field of his choice and aptitudes.

A student spends half a day in school, two or more periods of which are devoted to required subjects, and one period is scheduled for DE. Points covered in class are general business practice, fundamentals of salesmanship and personality development. The other half day is spent at work under the direction of the business manager of the job. The employer grades the student employees on attendance, progress, initiative and attitude. Two credits per year are earned and enrollees are not required to take physical education.

Seven students and Mr. Self attended the state convention in Baton Rouge on March 9-10.

Activities for the year were concluded with a spring banquet to which the student employees invited their employers. The announcement of the outstanding boy and girl in this program was a highlight of the banquet program.

Rebecca Wyatt, treasurer of the Distributive Education Club, works as a candy saleslady in a large department store.

DE student Marlene DeNoon enjoys her work as cashier and salesclerk in a local store.

FTA Honors Teachers With Apples

The Future Teachers of America is a club for students who are interested in entering the teaching profession. It is the purpose of the club to teach students what is expected of teachers, so they will better understand what the teaching profession tries to accomplish. It also strives to cultivate character essential in good teachers and to aid in selecting the best college curriculum for the future teacher.

Meetings are held twice a month—one after school at school and another in a home for a night party meeting. Several of the members attended a convention in Baton Rouge last April and the club was the guest of honor at a tea given by the Delta Kappa Gamma. Anita McGuffin, chapter president, also serves as reporter for the Shreveport district.

The official name of the Woodlawn Club is the "Roscoe H. White FTA Chapter." Mr. White is the immediate past Superintendent of Caddo Parish Schools who retired about two years ago. An assembly program in his honor was held last spring and he presented the charter to the school.

Miss Speer, one of the club advisors, helped supervise the FTA popcorn sale at the Carnival.

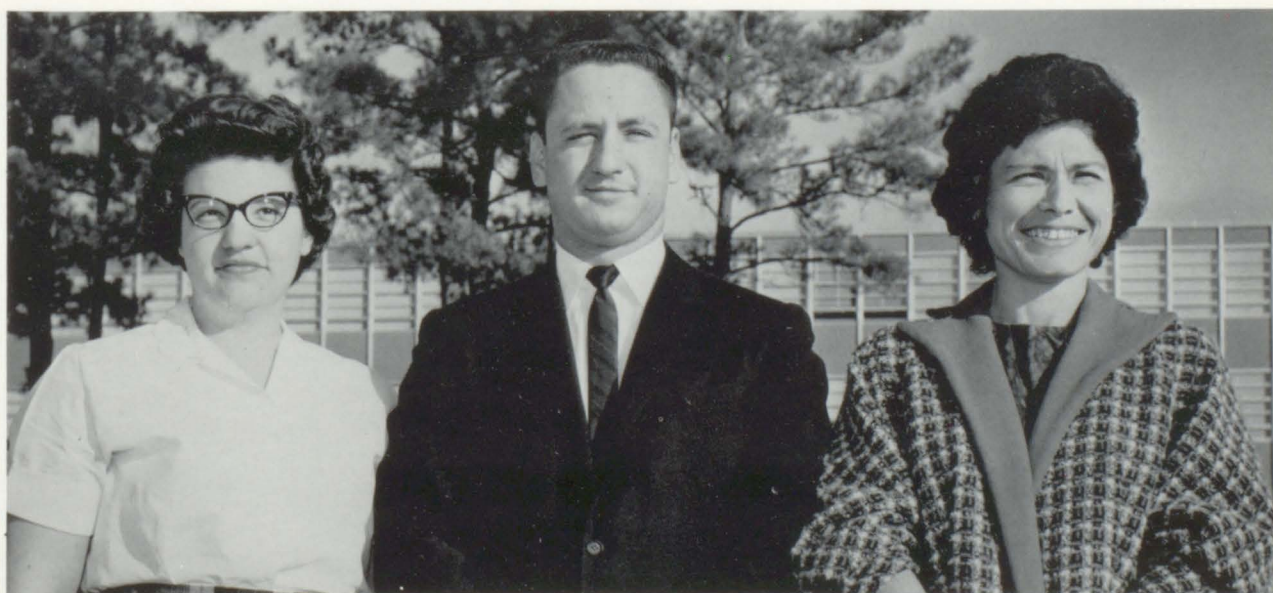

Teacher Appreciation Day was one of the featured activities of the Future Teachers of America. Anita McGuffin, President of FTA, presents an apple to her teacher, Mrs. DeMoss, on this day. All the other teachers also received an apple. Bulletin boards expressing thanks to teachers were featured and a Teacher's Tea was held during the week set aside to honor them.

ADVISORS

Miss Caroline Speer, Mr. Gerald Bennett, Mrs. Yvonne Strattman

Anita Mahaffey and Becky Gullledge took the fifteen cents per person required for admittance to "Hannibal's Hang-out" at the carnival.

Hannibal's Hangout is one club activity that will be long remembered. This attraction was the club's booth at the NDCC Carnival.

For the second year in a row, this club has had a state officer. Betsy Meyertons is currently serving as the corresponding secretary of the state's Junior Classical League. Becky Gullede and Aaron Sexton attended the National JCL Convention in Kansas.

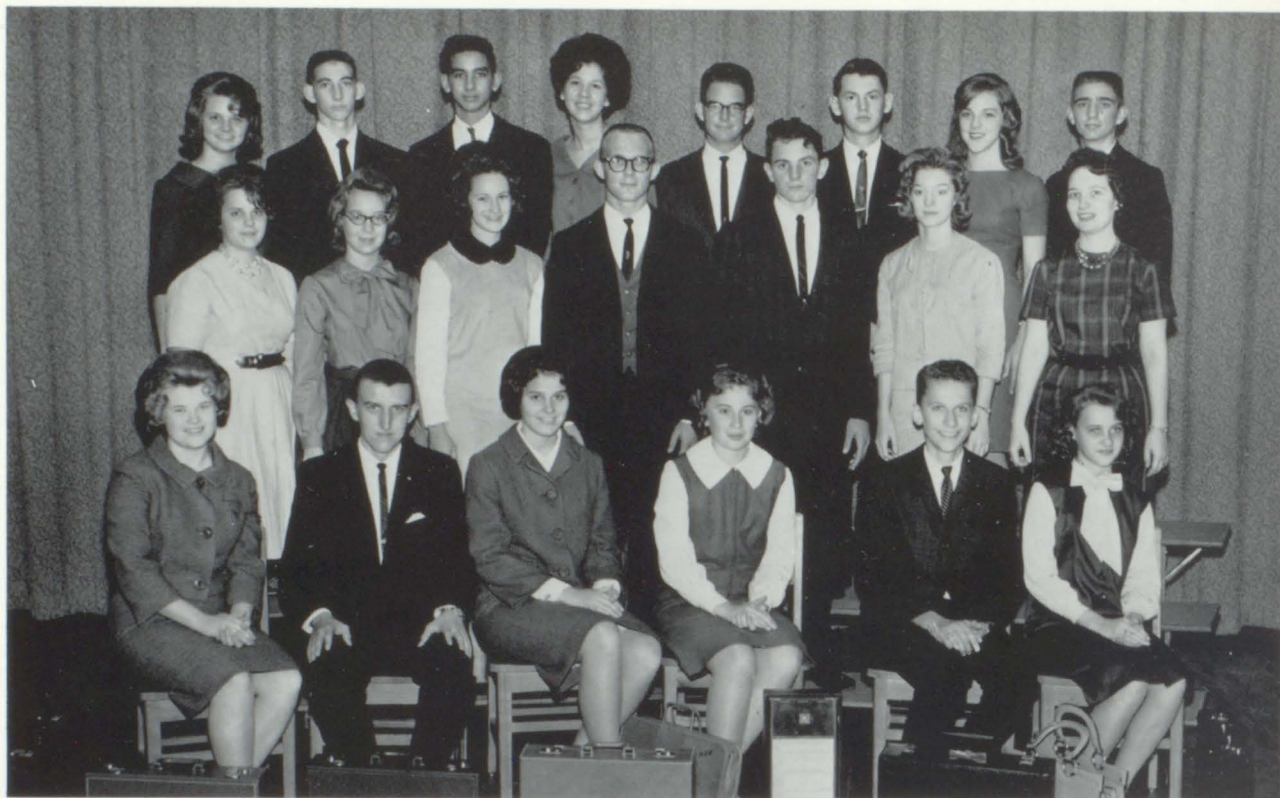

Socii Romani, boasting a record membership of 126 people, contributes to the school by buying books for the school library. This year the club purchased one entitled Greek Myths.

Members participated in the annual Inter Lingua Noel Fiesta—a combined Christmas party for all three foreign language clubs.

Club members gave a hootenanny in Latin as part of the entertainment at their carnival booth. Johnny Ramsey plays the ukulele to accompany the group as they sang in Latin "Where Have All The Flowers Gone?"

Debaters in National Forensic League

Woodlawn has had a debate team for a couple of years, but it was only this year that the group qualified for and affiliated with the national speech honor society—the National Forensic League.

The Woodlawn NFL chapter has been to a number of tournaments. These include Louisiana Tech, Northwestern, Centenary, and the Tournament of Champions. The students qualifying for this Tournament of Champions by winning a 1-2-3 place or an excellent or superior rating at a state tournament are Johnny English, Martha Sanders, Dale Davison, and Jimmy Holland. Holland and Davison also qualified for debate.

Winning excellent ratings at Louisiana Tech were Martha Sanders in Dramatic Interpretations, Johnny English in Extemporaneous Speaking, Johnnie Hall and Don Rogers in Radio Speaking. The debate teams got an overall rating of good.

Woodlawn's debate club promotes interest in interscholastic debate oratory and public speaking. Debate students may become an NFL member by acquiring at least twenty-five points and by being in the upper two-thirds of his class. Not all debate members this year belong to the NFL, but next year there will be only the one nationally affiliated organization so all debate students will also be NFL members.

Gaining membership in NFL is the objective of every advanced speech student. For many students it is the pinnacle of their high school career. For others it opens the door to opportunity and success.

Membership is a privilege. The membership of the NFL includes such members as former President Harry S. Truman, former Vice-President Richard M. Nixon and United States Senator Karl E. Mundt who is president of the National Forensic League. Other noted members include the late Eugene O'Neill and Art Linkletter.

The greatest value of membership is the encouragement and incentive it gives a member to become an effective speaker and hence a more successful and more influential citizen. NFL trains its members to be leaders in school today and the world tomorrow.

The five finalists in Individual Events at the Northwestern "Demon Forensic Meet" at Natchitoches, Louisiana, were Martha Sanders, Senior Women's Poetry; Dale Davison, Men's Oratory; Jimmy Holland, Men's Extemporaneous Speaking; Don Rogers, Senior Men's Oratory; and Clarence Adams, Senior Men's Poetry and Senior Men's Storytelling.

Three Woodlawn Students placed in the finals of the Individual Events at the Demon meet. Displaying the Certificates they received for winning are Dale Davison, Third Place in Junior Men's Oratory; Martha Sanders, First Place in Senior Women's Poetry; and Jimmy Holland, Second Place in Men's Extemporaneous Speaking.

FHA Sets Record With 97 Members

Robbie Ashford, the president of the Future Homemakers of America, also serves as parish FHA President and ACCOLADE editor. All the officers participated in the Leadership Conference last June in Bunkie, Louisiana.

Any student enrolled in high school who is taking or has taken a home economics course may become a member. The FHA tries to help individuals improve personal appearance, family life, and community living. At Christmas the club sent toys and favors to the Shriner's Hospital.

Members have been very active as they attended the state meeting in Alexandria in November, the Caddo Parish meeting in February, and the district meeting on the Louisiana Tech campus at Ruston in March. The final entertainment of the year was a Mother-Daughter Dinner in April.

Parish officers Sue Mullen, Historian; Mary Jo Laenger, Secretary; Robbie Ashford, President; and Connie Gam-mill, Treasurer plan for a parish meeting.

Mary Kaffka and Robbie Ashford hold an election of of-ficers for the Future Homemakers of America. Robbie asks for nominations for songleader.

Newly elected songleader, Joyce Racine, leads the club in singing the FHA Prayer song at a regular meeting. Sing-ing begins each meeting of this large group.

Mrs. Mayo, FHA advisor, serves punch to Mrs. Dear and Mrs. Garner during a Home Economics class. The girls in these classes are eligible for the FHA.

The Woodlawn Future Farmers voted unanimously this year to join the Caddo Parish Farm Bureau. Mr. Jack Williams, Farm Bureau President, presents membership cards to Woodlawn FFA President Burton Long and Vice-President Milton Williams.

FFA Works for Superior Award

All FFA members must be enrolled in Vocational Agriculture and be able to recite the FFA Creed. The club is intended to encourage leadership, scholarship, and citizenship among rural boys and to teach an added appreciation of farm life. In addition, boys have an opportunity to develop skills in livestock judging and parliamentary law.

Activities of this group are many. Some members attended the State Convention in Baton Rouge, assisted with the State Area Leadership Conference in Bunkie, the Area Judging Contest in Natchitoches, and assisted with the State FFA Barnyard Exhibit at the Louisiana State Fair.

Members with horses organized a riding club known as the "Woodlawn FFA Knight Riders." They participated in two overnight camping trips on horseback.

The chapter is working hard to qualify for a Superior Chapter Award. The program of work includes supervised farming, leadership, scholarship, community service, earnings and savings, recreation, conduct of meetings, public relations and participation in state and national activities.

Industrial Arts Boys Place in Fair

Serving as an educational organization, the Industrial Arts Club of Woodlawn High strives to promote an interest in industry, to help students to learn to work together, and to give them an opportunity for expressions of leadership.

Programs for the monthly meetings have been varied and informative. The club, consisting of thirty members, takes field trips, sees films, and observes industrial illustrative drawings.

Three members of the club won scholarships to Northwestern State College and many placed at N.S.C. in state-wide competition. Several boys and the advisor attended the LIAC convention at Natchitoches in March.

Mr. Bass, third from the left, instructs officers of the Industrial Arts Club in the use of the transit and discusses methods of surveying. Officers are from left to right: Ronnie Ray, Treasurer; John Lacy, President; Jane Lytle, Reporter; Johnette Dowden, Secretary; and Mark Estes, Vice-President.

Jack Harper turns through his 4-H club record book and reminisces about his prize-winning trip. Jack was state winner in the electric records contest and won a trip to Club Congress in Chicago where he was third runner-up in the nation.

4-H Club Wins Three Years in Row

Woodlawn's club, whose membership numbers thirty, rates high in the Parish 4-H Club Program as it has been the winning club at 4-H Achievement Day for three years straight. Members participate wholeheartedly in the activities of this club that stresses the development of the 4-H's—head, heart, hands, and health. This training, which teaches by doing, helps to build better citizens for tomorrow. Active members pay dues, keep a record book of their projects and activities, and attend regular meetings and Achievement Day.

Winners are numerous in this organization as can be ascertained from the following list of people and their activities. Jeanne Annison, Cynthia Arnold, and Shellye Abington attended the State Short Course at Baton Rouge last July. Shellye and Steve McFerrin exhibited animals in the International Livestock Show. Cynthia Arnold attended Club Congress in Chicago and Jack Harper and Buster Herren were on the winning State Livestock Judging Team and won a trip to Chicago.

Members usually participate in the Caddo Parish and Louisiana State Fairs and the Spring Livestock Show.

The regular club advisor, Mr. Herren, has been out of school since October because of illness. In his absence, Mrs. Josephine Allen is serving as their school leader.

Spanish Club Meets Once a Month

Woodlawn's Spanish Club bears the name, Los Alegres, meaning The Happy Ones. It was founded to encourage an interest in and to promote the understanding of the customs of our Spanish-speaking neighbors.

Any student having studied Spanish previously or one who is currently enrolled may be a member. Meetings are held monthly on the first Tuesday.

Barbara Cech, foreign exchange student from Austria, presented one program for a Spanish Club meeting. She showed slides from her own country.

One very interesting program was presented by Barbara Cech, the club's vice-president. She showed colored slides of her native country.

This organization of thirty-five members is sponsored by the Spanish teacher, Mrs. Mary Helen Tidwell. Ruth Morrow is serving as president this year. The club sponsored a booth at the November Carnival.

Pat Tibbits and Sandra Funderburk add crepe paper streamers to their club's booth as they get it ready for the NDCC carnival.

French Club Hosts Area Club Meeting

A French policeman, gendarme to the French students, is the center of attraction in Mr. Goodgion's French I Class as Mike O'Neill, Betty Hyde, and Malcolm Kirsop gather around him to show him off to visitors.

French students presently enrolled in classes or those who have completed two years of high school French may join the French Club—Les Amis Français.

The local French Club members also have membership in the area district club which is named "Les Lyceens Français de la Louisiane" and they were hosts for this organization last fall in the Woodlawn auditorium. The club also participated in the NDCC Carnival.

Once a month on each Wednesday afternoon after school, this organization of forty people meets so that the members may further their interest in and understanding of the French language and culture. Programs consist of films and slides showing Paris and the Riviera. Mrs. Jammy Williamson, Swiss native and the director of a local modeling school, talked at a spring meeting about teenagers and their school work.

The area club includes students from Bossier, Jesuit, Fair Park, St. Vincent and Woodlawn. Les Amis Français served refreshments at this meeting which was for organizational purposes. One of the spring meetings of the area club was televised from Centenary. Linda Birmingham serves as the secretary of this district group.

E. Evans

Producing a play calls for talents other than play acting. Members of the make-up committee, Linda Parker and Sandra Churchill, transform Lynn Chance into a middle-aged man for his part in the play, "Egad, What a Cad."

Drama Club Sees Local Productions

Membership in the Drama Club gives opportunity for students to get actual practice in the field of dramatics. "Egad, What a Cad" was presented by the group at the NDCC Carnival and it played to large audiences.

The primary requirement for members is an interest in drama and interpretation. Advancement in the club may be attained by earning points for completing assigned work.

Attendance as a group at local theatrical productions helps to maintain student interest. Club members have attended performances of the Little Theatre group and the Port Players. Mr. John Wray Young, head of the Shreveport Little Theatre, was the featured speaker at one of the regular meetings.

"High Masquers" is the formal name of this drama group which is sponsored by Mrs. Judy Bordelon and Mrs. Alice Richardson.

Art Club Members Do Decorations

Through the art club, many people receive extra training in art and they find an outlet for artistic talent.

Members must maintain a C average and attend at least one half of the meetings which are held weekly. Field trips furnish extra attraction. One fascinating exhibit was a show of water color paintings by Elsie M. Faith at the Louisiana State Museum.

School life is enriched by the contributions of these students. At various times they supply attractive decorations and add artistic highlights to school events. For example, they furnish decorations for the cafeteria at Christmas time and they do the decorations for the annual Pageant of the Accolade. This year, as part of the decorations, they featured a huge framed replica of the school crest which was designed as a result of a student council project. This marked the first official use of this design as a school symbol.

The Art Club added cheer to the cafeteria during the holiday season by painting a huge banner. Ronald Kidwell and Ken Williams attach it to the wall.

Bordy,

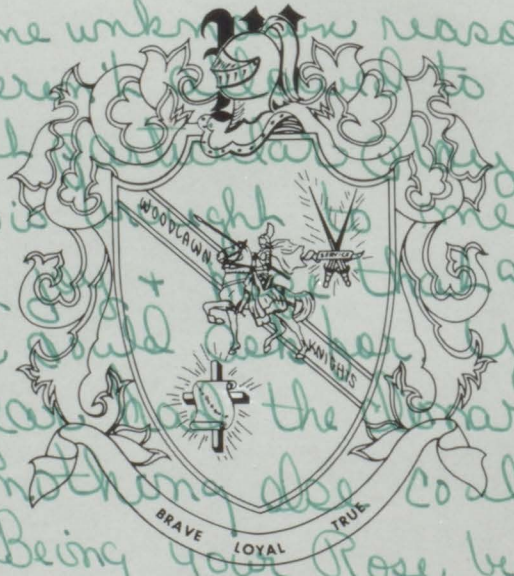

I'm writing here because to me you are almost the most special person alive, and because every event with you has been so special. I'll never ever forget the wonderful fun we had with "Egad" this fall. As your stage manager, Milly, and general flunky I experienced for the very first time your wonderful personality and glorious sense of humor. We spent hours obtaining furniture, getting guns and doing everything in general including being very very late for dress rehearsal. Milly, was so much fun + finally taking the Johnny Piazza, who in 1963 was a member of the Accolade Court and was elected Junior Class Favorite, is a fishing and basketball enthusiast. He was a football letterman for two years and was selected an all-city and all-district fullback and received honorable mention in the state division. His football career also enabled him to win an athletic scholarship to Louisiana State College.

Mr. and Miss Woodlawn High School

Sheila Mondello, who has long dreamed of being chosen Miss Woodlawn, has been elected a member of the Homecoming Court and a beauty for the past two years. An outstanding member of the FHA, she was Miss FHA and Parish Secretary in her junior year. She was a member of the 1962 Accolade Pageant, and was Junior Class Favorite in 1963. She also served as a delegate to Pelican State. Sheila plans to attend Northeast Louisiana State College to major in Business Administration.

SENIOR FAVORITES — Russel Poole, Mary Lou Bizet

Senior Class Elects Favorites Who Were Also "Knights Before Christmas"

A six foot, blue-eyed Knight who enjoys fishing and hunting was chosen as the young man to represent the Seniors as class favorite. Russel Poole, whose hobbies include coin and rock collecting, is a member of the Drama Club, History Club, and Spanish Club. After graduating, he hopes to attend either East Texas Baptist College or Louisiana Tech to major in archaeology. Chosen as "Mr. Knight Before Christmas," Russel enjoys watching football and baseball games.

Mary Lou, a petite red head, who enjoys oil painting, sewing and swimming, is active in the Latin Club, Student Council and served as a member of the Football Program Ad Staff. She says that the greatest moment in her high school career came when she was elected a Lancerette captain. After graduation, Mary Lou plans to attend LSU and major in psychology. She was a Senior attendant in the 1964 Accolade Court and was chosen "Miss Knight Before Christmas."

JUNIOR FAVORITES—Jerry Humphries, Brenda Boyette

Juniors and Sophomores Pick Favorites

Brenda Boyette, Junior Favorite, served two years in the Homecoming Court and was twice elected a beauty. Brenda was in Pep Squad, Student Council, FHA, and plans to be an interior decorator.

Occupying most of the time of Junior Favorite Jerry Humphries are coin collecting, hunting, and sports. A member of the football team, he hopes to attend Annapolis and pursue a career in engineering.

Being chosen Sophomore Favorite ranks highest among Nancy Newbury's most exciting remembrances. She served as Sophomore Maid in the 1964 Accolade Pageant, Sophomore Class Secretary, and plans to attend Louisiana Tech to take secretarial courses.

The main pastimes of Jimmy Buckner, Sophomore Favorite and outdoor enthusiast, are football and baseball. Jimmy was chosen as an Accolade Page in the 1964 Pageant. Attending Louisiana Tech or LSU are in Jimmy's future plans.

School Crest Used at Pageant

Charlotte Hudson reigned as Queen and Thomas Youngblood as King for the annual Accolade Pageant held on February 21, 1964. They and each of their attendants were elected by their classes.

A castle of deep red, constructed by Art Club members, gave the affair an atmosphere of Medieval times as trumpets heralded the introduction of each court member. Charlotte, dressed in a white satin gown, had the honor of being the first queen to wear the sequined robe which was designed by Miss Blackbourne and Mrs. King. The Queen's maids wore dresses of rose satin. The Knights' shield was also presented for the first time and adorned the throne, while banners painted with knights hung from the wall at intervals around the auditorium.

"A Mid-Winter Knight's Dream" set the theme for the annual Knight's Ball which was held at the American Legion Clubhouse immediately following the Pageant. The dance, sponsored by the Student Council, featured Jerry Hawkins' Band. Huge globes, streamers, and ostrich feathers—done in senior colors of red, white, and blue—decorated the clubhouse.

LEFT: Charlotte, who was elected queen because she was the girl receiving the largest number of votes in her class, is editor-in-chief of the HERALD, senior cheerleader, and a member of the FTA. This avid ski fan plans to major in elementary education at Louisiana Tech after leaving Woodlawn.

LEFT: Thomas, subject of the "Ballad of Yomas Tounghblood," is a two year letterman in football and a member of the Industrial Arts Club. He was chosen king of the Accolade Pageant by having the largest number of votes among the Senior nominees.

RIGHT: After the Queen presented the Senior Knights their sash of Knighthood, King Thomas awarded them the accolade of knighthood. Warren Gould, Jimmy Edwards, Dennis Newbury, and Keith Hetrick were chosen for this honor on a basis of their contributions to the school and because they have shown valor, honor, and loyalty.

After being presented at half time ceremonies, the 1963 Homecoming Court observed the last half of the game from a decorated float on the 50 yard line.

Homecoming Attendants See WHS Win

Homecoming Queen Barbara Norrid has a distinction that few queens can claim—she ruled over homecoming as a queen without a crown. Dressed in a white wool suit, she carried the traditional bouquet of red roses and was escorted by Larry Stephens. It was discovered only a few minutes before the crowning ceremony was to take place that the crown was not at the stadium but was at school tucked away for safe keeping. Even a mad rush with a police escort out to school failed to get it in time. The ceremony proceeded on time however with Barbara receiving a big white mum corsage instead.

The queen and her court made their entrance for the ceremonies from the east side of the field through a castle which was designed and made by the art department.

After their presentation, they retired to the sidelines to observe the rest of the game from a float designed by the cheerleaders and Mrs. Barr. From this position they witnessed Woodlawn deliver a crushing 33-6 defeat to Ouachita.

Escorts for the homecoming attendants were 1963 graduates of WHS. They were chosen from students who had been active in their years here, and they were those who had participated in a variety of campus activities.

Immediately after the game, many Woodlawn students gathered at the American Legion Club for a Student Council sponsored Homecoming dance. The council provided lavish decorations using the theme "Knights Forever."

Serving as advisors and consultants to the girl participants were Mrs. Virginia King and Miss Mickey Nickels.

Barbara Norrid was chosen by the entire student body to reign as Queen of the third annual homecoming ceremony. Barbara was a member of the Lancerettes in her sophomore and junior year, active in Student Council work, a member of the Red Cross, a school store worker, and served as junior maid in the 1963 homecoming ceremony. She received the rare honor of being elected as a class beauty for all three years in high school and served as senior cheerleader this year.

The queen and her entire court were presented as a group after being presented on the field. In the background can be seen the castle constructed especially for this occasion by members of the art classes.

National Honor Society Has Scholars

Among the privileges we possess as a school is the power to confer various honors. We may reward distinction in debate; we may present letters for accomplishments in sports; we may choose our kings, queens and favorites.

In all these instances we recognize either ordinary or above ordinary ability or some limited talent or skill. Not always have we had a means of distinguishing those of the student body who are outstanding in the scholastic field, but the National Honor Society provides a means of focusing attention on those who achieve this distinction.

Woodlawn received its charter from the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools in 1961. Since that time 74 members have been chosen to join the ranks of the club on the basis of their scholarship, citizenship, leadership, and service. These people rank high scholastically being in the upper half of their class. Their character has been attested to as excellent by their teachers and advisors, and by virtue of their unceasing efforts they have made Woodlawn a better school. They have served on committees; they have been members of teams; and they have helped to advance student participation in school activities.

Admission to this organization is one of the greatest honors that can come to a high school student. Induction ceremonies are held in April and new members take a pledge to uphold the ideals of this organization. Inductees are presented their pins which bear the emblem on the adjoining page.

Juniors in the Honor Society serve as ushers at graduation and baccalaureate services and also help to decorate for graduation. This year, as every year, they served as ushers for the annual Christmas assembly sponsored by the Student Council.

A committee composed of Pat Grob, John Ramsey, Henry Hungerbeeler, and Sarah Grunwald meets to begin work on a Code of Ethics for the students at Woodlawn. The code is a special project of the society.

The emblem of the National Honor Society is a flaming torch which symbolizes the light for knowledge. On the emblem are the letters CSLS which stand for certain qualities that a member must possess. These qualities are character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

PELICAN STATE DELEGATES

Jan Reaves, Sheila Mondello, Sarah Grunwald, Sherry Leopard, Ann Dear, David Basinger, and Tommy Mason demonstrate the marching skill that they acquired while at Pelican State to fellow delegates Dennis Newbury, Johnny Ramsey, Jerry Clark, Jimmy Edwards, and Henry Hungerbeeler.

Woodlawn Delegate Wins State Office

What could be an honor, a trying experience, a memorable learning program, and yet seem to be a dream? The answer lies in the annual Pelican State Convention held on the campus of Louisiana State University in August. Early each April the faculty and students elect twelve seniors, five girls and seven boys, to represent Woodlawn at this convention. These students are elected because of their initiative, leadership abilities, scholarship and personality.

Each year 500 students from all parts of the state go to the campus of LSU to learn to work with people from other places. They spend ten days learning the fundamentals of Louisiana government whether it be local, parish, or state. They also elect their own officials in regular election procedures and each delegate assumes the role of a governmental official. They introduce and argue bills in a legislature composed of these delegates. This year Sarah Grunwald was elected to the state office of Superintendent of Education.

The first few days at Pelican State are spent in pure confusion and lack of sleep becomes quite common because of the fast pace of the scheduled activities. Through the concentrated program, the delegates gain a knowledge of Louisiana politics that will benefit them for the rest of their lives.

The last night of this exciting week is capitol night when a delegate finally realizes that he has passed through a phase of his life he will never forget.

RIGHT: Accompanied by Mrs. Dear, Assistant Principal, and her daughter, Ann, Barbara visited New Orleans and was overwhelmed with Mardi Gras.

WHS Students Gain New Friend

In September, 1963, our Castle was graced with a lovely young lady from Wels, Austria. She is Barbara Cech, Woodlawn's first foreign exchange student. During her short stay, Barbara has participated in most of our school activities and has won the hearts of all. Such a charming person cannot soon be forgotten. Other exchange students will come and go, but Barbara will always be a part of Woodlawn, and we hope Woodlawn will always be a part of her.

In her own words Barbara describes her year with us. "When I look back to the day of my arrival, August 15, 1963, the time I spent with 'y'all' doesn't seem long at all. And yet, it is almost time to leave. I remember how excited I was when I got the scholarship and came over . . . Very soon I found out that the people here are especially friendly and kind and that Woodlawn is the most wonderful school I could have got. And when I think about my departure around the twenty-fifth of June, I always get a little sad. But there is still one hope left—the hope of coming back to you and your beautiful Louisiana, which I love so truly, to my second home country."

According to Senior Lady Barbara, the Pageant of the Accolade and the Knight's Ball were "just great." She was escorted at the Pageant by Knight Dennis Newbury.

The officers and advisor of Quill and Scroll gather around as Jimmy Edwards, Chairman of the NDCC Carnival Committee, explains his idea to raise money at the annual fund-raising affair. The officers are: Pat Grob, President; Robbie Ashford, Secretary; Mary Kaffka, Treasurer; Linda Dunham, Program Chairman; Miss Lucretia Holmes, Advisor; Amy Linder, Assistant Program Chairman

Quill and Scroll Has Tricycle Race

The charter for the Woodlawn Chapter of the Quill and Scroll was granted on April 17, 1962. This club was organized to recognize and reward students for their ability and achievement in all phases of journalistic work in high school. Students are instilled with a better idea of scholarship, thereby developing better journalists by emphasizing a higher code of ethics. Such training enabled Robbie Ashford and Lewis Allgood to win awards at the 1963 annual LSPA convention.

Membership is limited to those juniors and seniors who have done outstanding work in some phase of journalism or school publication. Such phases include writing, editing, art, business management or production. A student must be a member of a journalism class, a member of the editorial or business staff of the HERALD, or the ACCOLADE, or the Football Program Ad Staff.

An activity of the Quill and Scroll this year was the monthly display of a "Thought For The Month" which was posted on a library bulletin board. The club also had a booth at the NDCC Carnival which featured tricycle races with the teachers.

Serving as President and Vice-President of the Caddo Parish 4-H Executive Council are Jack Harper and Jeanne Annison. These juniors will represent Caddo Parish in July at the 4-H Short Course in Baton Rouge as voting delegates.

All-District team members Johnny Piazza and Gary Mitchell, also received an honorable mention and a Second All-State team position, respectively.

Honors Given to Outstanding Students

Cathy Collins, Jan Reaves, Linda Fincher, Betty Barnes, and Donald Hamlett were chosen as members of the All-State Chorus which is composed of about 150 students throughout Louisiana. The chorus sang in New Orleans last November for the Louisiana State Teachers' Convention.

State Junior Classical League Corresponding Secretary Betsy Myertons said good-bye to Aaron Sexton and Becky Gullledge, delegates to the national JCL Convention, as they left for the workshop held at the University of Kansas last August.

Knights Rewarded for Abilities

As a result of auditions held at Natchitoches, Kenneth Neely, Mike Pennywell, David Butler, and Myrna Parnell were selected to the All-State Band or Orchestra. This is Myrna's third year and David's second to be a member of this group. Both are seniors. First year All-Stater's Kenneth and Mike are sophomores.

Seven Knights, Gary Mitchell, Johnny Piazza, Trey Prather, Ralph Kraft, Rayford Walker, Jack Evans, and Gerald Burnett were named to the All-City football teams. Mitchell, Walker, and Burnett were chosen for their defensive play, while the other four were offensive team members. Junior, Prather, Kraft, and Burnett will return next year to lead the team.

Jack Harper displays the sugar bowl he received for his award winning essay on sugar, "One Lump, Please." His essay was announced as the first place winner in a state-wide contest at the Sugar Festival in New Iberia. Jack was also given a plaque for the school.

Winners are chosen by the faculty on the basis of their leadership and participation in school activities.

Caddo Parish President of the Future Homemakers of America, Robbie Ashford, puts up the club banner for FHA week. Robbie was elected at the 1963 parish meeting to preside at this year's meeting which was held at Woodlawn in late February.

John Ramsey was the recipient of a $25 bond and a copy of the Declaration of Independence from the Sertoma Club. Each year, this service club rewards students who are outstanding in history.

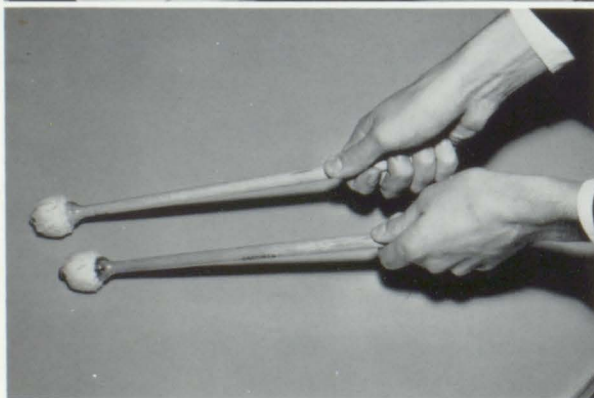

Mrs. Bordelon,

I can't begin to tell you the pleasure it's been working with you. We've had our up's & down's but we made it. It was the best. Good luck to a great teacher.

Love Always,
Ruth

MUSIC

The band promotes a vibrant spirit in Woodlawn students as it plays for assemblies, pep rallies, and football games.

Practice sessions, held daily during second period and three afternoons per week, give band students a weekly average of twelve hours work for which they receive one credit per year. Two band members made All-State Band and two made All-State Orchestra.

In addition to the appearances named above, the band participates in concerts, two parades and three festivals.

The Concert Band has a membership of eighty-two, the Intermediate Band has thirty-two people, and twelve students who are interested in strings make up the Orchestra.

Fifty-one Voices in Concert Choir

Music gives man another means of expression and the variety of moods is endless. The Woodlawn choirs discover this each year as they learn the music of great masters, both ancient and modern. The choirs sing a variety of types of music, but modern show music is one of the favorites.

Membership in Concert Choir is achieved through auditions. The student must have talent, some knowledge of music, and a desire to learn. The choir meets for one hour each day and one credit is attained.

The result of these hours of work comes in many forms and one of these is concerts and performances. The annual Christmas Concert given before the student body consisted of the traditional religious carols. A Spring Concert was given and the Choir also participated in less formal appearances. They sang carols at the Southside Village Shopping Center just before Christmas and an ensemble consisting of fifteen students furnished entertainment for the Cedar Grove Rotary Club. The choir sang at the Annual Christmas Program of the Caddo Parish School Board Administrators' Club. A festival was attended at Natchitoches on March 19 and the choir also participated in a combination performance of all high school choirs in Caddo Parish under the direction of Mr. Melvin Simmons.

Five members of the Woodlawn Concert Choir achieved membership in the All-State Chorus which met in New Orleans and performed for the Louisiana Teacher's Convention last November.

The Girls' Choir appears frequently with the Concert Choir. Membership in Girls' Choir provides fine experience in singing. Girls' Choir members must also be chosen by audition.

Both choirs present a fine appearance on stage. The Girls' Choir appears in pink dresses with shoes dyed to match. The girls in Concert Choir wear blue dresses and blue shoes dyed to match. The boys wear dark suits.

Professor of Military Science, Lt. Colonel Hugh McClary, heads the Woodlawn unit of the National Defense Cadets Corps, which has an enrollment of 170 cadets and 15 sponsors. Lt. Colonel Henry Turner serves as Assistant PMS. This program is designed to teach the cadets basic principles of leadership and give them a better understanding of military life. The training includes discipline through set rules and regulations, and it encourages patriotism and loyalty. Special emphasis is also given to military courtesy. Marching skills are learned through rigid training.

This training may lead to a commission in the US Army Reserve, if it is pursued at the college level. A young man, pursuing a senior ROTC course at college level, receives one college credit for three years participation in the NDCC program.

This NDCC group, only four years old, has been rated an honor unit each year during Federal Inspection.

Marching in downtown Shreveport parades and entering Drill Team and Rifle Team competition offers a chance for related extracurricular activities. Also a two week voluntary encampment is held each summer. Another activity that cadets and sponsors anticipate eagerly is the Military Ball held each spring.

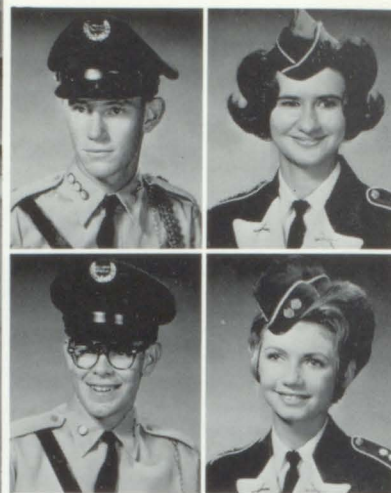

This course, providing one-fourth credit per year, may be pursued in lieu of physical education.

State Playoffs Climax Season

Woodlawn's 1963 football season proved to be another successful chapter in its four-year history. Hard work and determination, a symbol for which the Knights have become known, paved the way to an 8-3-1 record and a second place finish in the district. With it came a place in the state playoffs and a trip to New Orleans to play East Jefferson.

Another bright spot of this season was the fact that the Knights did not suffer a defeat away from home. This extended a streak to 11 road games without defeat over a three-year span.

Statistics also indicated that Woodlawn was among the state's most prolific scoring teams. The Knights pushed across 259 points in twelve games, as compared to only 93 for their opponents. This offensive power helped the Knights rate eighth place in the UPI poll and 10th on the AP list.

In its short history Woodlawn has gained a reputation for many things. Among these are outstanding school spirit and attendance at all games. Regardless of the opponent or the location of the game, Woodlawn has great crowds. Many officials of the opposing teams have commented that Woodlawn has terrific spirit and loyal fans.

Although the Knights did not bring home a victory in their playoff battle, their efforts throughout the season of '63 will be remembered as gallant efforts from the Knights of Woodlawn High.

Many hours are spent on the practice field preparing for the games. This form-tackling drill is one of the exercises which are done every day during the workouts.

Coach Hedges gives last minute instructions as the Knights get ready to take the field for the game with Fair Park.

**State Playoff Game*

Trey Prather calls signals for the Knights against Minden's Crimson Tide, who later captured the Class AA State Championship. The Tide rolled past Woodlawn 20-14.

Head Coach Lee Hedges seems very concerned as he talks with the coaches in the press box. Standing with him are former Woodlawn quarterbacks, Joe Geter and Billy Laird. As a high school football player at Fair Park, Coach Hedges was an All-American. He played college ball at LSU, where he ranks third in most minutes played.

Coach Hedges became an assistant coach at Fair Park in 1955 and the Indians captured the district title. In 1956 he moved to Byrd as head coach and served there for four years until coming to Woodlawn in 1960—its first year of existence. His Woodlawn teams have compiled an overall record of 26-17-1 in four years.

Coach Billy Joe Adcox discusses the situation with Byron Sprawls during the Minden game. Coach Adcox played high school football in Arkansas and played for La. Tech for three years, being named Tech's Most Valuable lineman in his senior year.

After graduation, he went into the coaching ranks at El Dorado High as an assistant. He received his master's degree at the University of Alabama, where he was a Student Assistant under Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant. Coach Adcox coaches the linemen and is also in charge of the equipment room.

Backfield Coach A. L. Williams walks off the field after the Fair Park game. Coach Williams played for the Indians in 1952 and was one of the stars on their only state championship team. He also played basketball and ran track at the Greenwood Road School. He played for La. Tech in 1953-56, serving as one of the co-captains in his senior year and leading the team in scoring three years.

End Coach W. B. Calvert sends players into the Fair Park game. Coach Calvert played football, basketball, and baseball for Fair Park during his high school years. He was a second team All-State choice in football and All-District for the Indians.

Coach Calvert attended Northwestern State College, where he was a letterman in football and baseball. He coached basketball and baseball at Plain Dealing High School for four years before coming to Woodlawn.

Coaches Lead Team to 8-3-1 Record

Coach Jerry Adams (on the right) attends to an injured player as Dr. Hiller and manager Tommy Bellows lend a helping hand. Coach Adams was a fullback on Ruston High School's 1947 state championship team. He played college football for three years at LSU and for one year at La. Tech.

Coach Adams is one of the line coaches and along with Coach Williams takes care of many of the injuries suffered by the players.

WOODLAWN 13 N. CADDO 0

Woodlawn's Knights, displaying a crushing ground attack and a staunch defense, opened the 1963 season with a hard-earned victory over North Caddo's Rebels. Shortly before the end of the half, the Knights scored on a 5 yard run by Gerald Burnett to hold a 6-0 lead at halftime. Later, Burnett plunged for two yards and Ralph Kraft converted to end the scoring and give the Knights a 13-0 victory in their first outing.

WOODLAWN 28 FAIR PARK 7

For the third consecutive year, Woodlawn spelled defeat for city rival Fair Park. Sparked by the bull-like charges of fullback Johnny Piazza, who gained 125 yards in 24 carries, the Knights captured their second victory of the season and their first in district play.

Second-half touchdowns by Piazza, Gerald Burnett, and Moss McCalister broke up a tight defensive duel. The Knights rolled up 20 first downs compared to only 6 for the Indians.

Thomas Youngblood makes a sensational catch in the Fair Park game as Indian Steve Schmidt tackles him.

Fullback Johnny Piazza is upended by a Fair Park defensive man in the Knights' 28-7 district win over Fair Park's Indians. A second half comeback sparked the Knights' victory.

Woodlawn defensive end Kenny Davis exerts the needed "extra effort" and makes a valiant attempt to tackle quarterback Ricky Head of Bastrop.

Knights Suffer First Loss of Season

Head coach Lee Hedges discusses game strategy with Woodlawn quarterback Trey Prather during the Bastrop game in which the Knights were defeated 13-7.

Woodlawn 7 Bastrop 13

Bastrop's fired-up Rams handed Woodlawn its first loss of the season by topping the Knights 13-7. All-State quarterback Ricky Head led the Rams to two touchdowns after Woodlawn had taken a 7-0 lead on a 5 yard run by Buster Herren and Ralph Kraft's extra point.

Head scored one TD on a 3 yard run and set up the other score with a fine punt return. The Knights outgained their opponents 177-85 on the ground and led 10-6 in first downs, but they could not push across another touchdown. This marked the first time Bastrop had beaten the Knights in three contests.

Woodlawn 33 Ouachita 6

The 1963 Homecoming proved to be successful for Woodlawn's Knights as they crushed Ouachita 33-6. Gerald Burnett dived over from the one yard line in the opening stanza for Woodlawn's first score. Johnny Piazza led the team with two touch-down jaunts and quarterback Trey Prather set sail with his first TD pass of the season, a 53 yard beauty to end Thomas Youngblood.

Andy Creel raced 40 yards with a Ouachita fumble for the other score. Also outstanding was junior halfback Randy Mason, who intercepted a Lion pass and ran a punt back 71 yards to set up a touchdown.

MANAGERS: Teddy Linn, Rex Lockwood, Tommy Bellows, Bill Fair, Nico Van Thyn

Woodlawn 38 Springhill 0

Quarterbacks Trey Prather and Jerry Humphries paved the way to victory No. 4 for the Knights from Sherwood Park over Springhill's Lumberjacks. Both scored two touchdowns and Prather also tossed an 8 yard TD pass to halfback Randy Mason. Buster Herren thrilled the fans on a 53 yard run up the middle to round out the scoring.

Equally impressive as the offense was the defensive play of the Knights. They held Springhill to 2 first downs and 57 total yards to chalk up a resounding 38-0 win.

Woodlawn 14 W. Monroe 6

Led by fullback Johnny Piazza and quarterback Trey Prather, Woodlawn's red and blue defeated a tough West Monroe eleven by the score of 14-6. After recovering a Rebel bobble early in the opening period, Woodlawn scored with Gerald Burnett carrying the pigskin over from the two yard line. Ralph Kraft booted the extra point and the Knights led 7-0 at intermission. West Monroe countered with an early fourth quarter TD, but a Prather to Randy Mason touchdown pass of 23 yards wrapped up a hard-fought district victory.

Three Straight Opponents Subdued

Halfback Gerald Burnett runs hard in the Bossier game as a Bearkat attempts to tackle him. The junior was one of the many stars in Woodlawn's 19-13 triumph.

Jerry Humphries boards the bus and Gary Mitchell prepares to follow him as the team gets ready to leave for the big trip to New Orleans to play in the state playoffs.

Woodlawn 7 Byrd 14

In a game witnessed by almost 20,000 fans, Byrd High gained a district victory over Woodlawn. Jack Evans scored the first touchdown against Byrd for Woodlawn in three years when he picked up a Jacket fumble and sped 37 yards. Byrd matched this defensive gem with one of their own as Sandy Dean intercepted a pass and raced 40 yards to tie the score at 7-7.

Byrd scored the winning tally late in the fourth quarter and held the Knights the rest of the way for a hard-fought 14-7 victory.

Woodlawn registered a victory by forfeit in this football game later on in the season when it was announced that Byrd forfeited their first nine games due to an ineligible player.

Woodlawn 42 Mansfield 6

Mansfield jumped out to a 6-0 first quarter lead, but the Woodlawn offense got rolling and scored three touchdowns in both halves to topple the Class A Wolverines 42-6. Johnny Piazza and Buster Herren, running behind Woodlawn's hard-charging line, scored two touchdowns apiece to lead the rout. Trey Prather connected with Gerald Burnett and Randy Mason on short passes for the other two scores. Ralph Kraft kicked six consecutive extra points for the Knights.

Once again the defense made it tough for the opposing team, limiting Mansfield to only 32 yards rushing.

Trey Prather, Woodlawn's talented quarterback, eludes two Byrd Yellow Jackets, in a game which Byrd won 14-7, with a late fourth-quarter TD.

Each year the football team is honored with a banquet at which the lettermen and cheerleaders are given awards. Rex Lockwood, Cindy Rowland, and Randy Mason share a joke at this year's event which was held at the Holiday Inn West.

The team is on their feet and all eyes are on the field at opening kickoff time as they wait for Ralph Kraft to kick off.

Knights Break Even With AA Foes

Woodlawn 37 Jesuit 0

Woodlawn demolished Jesuit on Halloween night by the score of 37-0. The Knights scored in every quarter except the third and also played well on defense. Junior fullback Buster Herren scored twice on six yard runs, while Johnny Piazza, Randy Mason, and Gerald Burnett each tallied once. The Knights also picked up another two points when they scored their first safety in the history of the school. Trey Prather also sparkled as he completed 8 out of 8 passes, including one touchdown strike.

Woodlawn 14 Minden 20

Minden's powerful Crimson Tide kept its unbeaten streak alive as Woodlawn suffered its third loss of the season by the score of 20-14. Offense was the highlight of the tussle. Minden's Fred Haynes scored two touchdowns and Stan Belton added the third. For the Knights, Trey Prather ran for one TD and passed 14 yards for another to end Jack Evans. An interesting fact to note was that center Ralph Kraft added his 16th and 17th straight extra points for the Knights.

Johnny Piazza, Woodlawn's leading rusher, tries to evade the enemy in the Knights' 33-6 romp over Ouachita.

Woodlawn 19 Bossier 14

With the thought of a state playoff berth looming in the air, Woodlawn's Knights fought off a Bossier rally and defeated the Bearkats 19-14.

Gerald Burnett ran for one touchdown and caught a 29 yard pass from Trey Prather for a second. Johnny Piazza rang up Woodlawn's winning margin in the second quarter with a run of 2 yards for a TD.

Bossier halfback David Smith reeled off a long run of 70 yards against the Knights' tenacious defense for Bossier's initial score.

This important district win set the stage for Woodlawn's first game in Cajun country—a state playoff battle with East Jefferson.

Woodlawn 7 E. Jefferson 7

Hundreds of Woodlawn fans traveled to the Crescent City to watch the Knights battle East Jefferson, the No. 2 team in the state.

Rain fell from the beginning and it was the first time the Knights had faced this problem. After a scoreless first quarter, East Jeff fullback Randy Hudson scored on a five yard run to put the Warriors ahead 7-0 at halftime.

Woodlawn came back in the second half and scored on a fourth down desperation pass from Trey Prather to Ken Liberto. Both teams fought down to the wire with the score tied at 7-7. Unfortunately, East Jefferson led in first downs 6-5 and advanced in the playoffs.

Buster Herren runs for a short gain before being corralled by two Bossier players. The Knights gained a playoff berth with a victory over the Bearkats.

Nine Win Letters in Basketball

Although they compiled only a 9-19 record, Woodlawn's basketball team improved greatly over the second half of the season. Coach W. B. Calvert's cagers played a tough schedule, and in the latter part showed up well against some of the top teams in North Louisiana.

Six seniors who won their basketball letters were Dennis Newbury, Tommy Edwards, David Basinger, Larry Alexander, Dennis Blackmon, and Jimmy Tobin. For Newbury, it was his second monogram in the roundball sport. The three junior lettermen, Ken Liberto, Trey Prather, and Bobby Basinger will return to form the nucleus of next year's team. Others who saw some varsity action were James Hill, Larry Blackmon, and Joe Colvin.

Rex Lockwood and Nico Van Thyn spend ten hours or more each week fulfilling their duties as basketball managers. Both are responsible for keeping up with the equipment. Rex keeps the scorebook and Nico records the statistics.

Knights Place Three in State Meet

Track manager Teddy Linn knocks in the starting blocks. In addition to this, his other duties include timing the runners in practice and taking care of the equipment.

Five seniors and some promising juniors and sophomores composed the 1963 Woodlawn track team. The squad had some fine performances throughout the season, finishing second in meets at Bossier, Haynesville, and Minden, and tying Fair Park for second in the Woodlawn Invitational.

Seniors Larry Stephens, Mickey Joiner, Jon Pat Stephenson, Ronnie Newberry, and Randy Walker were the veteran members of the team. Stephens and Joiner both set two school records, Larry getting his in the broad jump and the triple jump, and Mickey setting his in the hurdle events. Stephenson set a record in the high jump.

Junior lettermen were high jumper Larry Alexander, and sprinters Rodney Bauman and Jimmy Horton. Sophomores who received track monograms were sprinters Gerald Burnett and Jerry Humphries, and distance men Randy Mason and Scott Garner. Three boys represented Woodlawn at the state meet at Ruston, because they were either first or second in their event at the district meet—Larry Stephens in the broad jump and the triple jump, and Jon Pat Stephenson and Larry Alexander in the high jump. Stephens finished third in the triple jump and fourth in the broad jump, and Jon Pat fourth in his event to account for Woodlawn's eight points in the state meet. Both boys were later selected to the All-State team.

Larry Stephens lands in the pit after winning the triple jump at the Woodlawn Invitational Track Meet. Ten teams were entered in the meet, which Byrd won the second consecutive year.

Knights Stop State Champs Twice

The 1963 Woodlawn baseball team posted a 13-7 record and finished second in the Western Division of District 1-AAA. Under the direction of Coach Jerry Adams, the flannel-clads came through with two district victories over state champion Fair Park and beat Byrd in three league contests.

Seniors Ronnie Olague, Edwards Walker, and Jon Pat Stephenson captured their third letter in the diamond sport. Other seniors who received letters included Keith Annison, Joe Geter, Richard Leach, and Robert Smith.

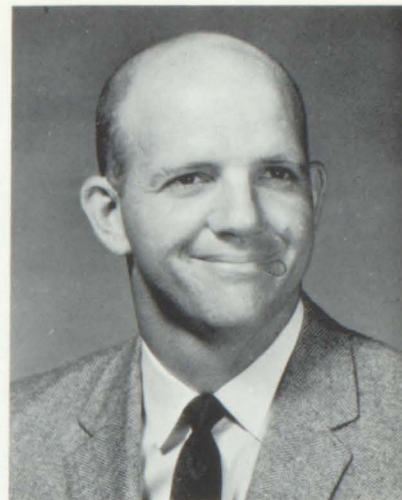

Olague had a 5-2 pitching record. His excellent performances were one of the main reasons for the successful season. Stephenson and Walker both had high batting averages and they provided the team with the needed leadership.

Ten lettermen will return to this year's club. They are infielders David Basinger, Jimmy Edwards, Joe Colvin, and Jerry Friar, outfielders Herbie Grubbs and Ken Liberto, catcher Trey Prather, and pitchers Dennis Newbury, Billy Payne, and Byron Sprawls.

The team gathers around Coach Adams and his son Bill after one of the games. Coach Adams has spent many hours in getting the diamond ready so that it will be in good playing condition.

Managers Tommy Bellows and Nico Van Thyn place the team's bats in the bag following a diamond duel. These managers work very hard each day. Tommy takes care of the team's equipment during the games while Nico keeps the scorebook.

Jimmy Edwards slides across the plate with one of the nine runs in Woodlawn's victory over Byrd. In the important district contest, Edwards Walker pitched a one-hit shutout and was also one of the hitting stars.

Tennis Team Has State Finalist

Woodlawn's 1963 tennis team started the season with nine lettermen. As the season progressed the experience strengthened the squad and when the season ended the Knights had a record of 4-7-2.

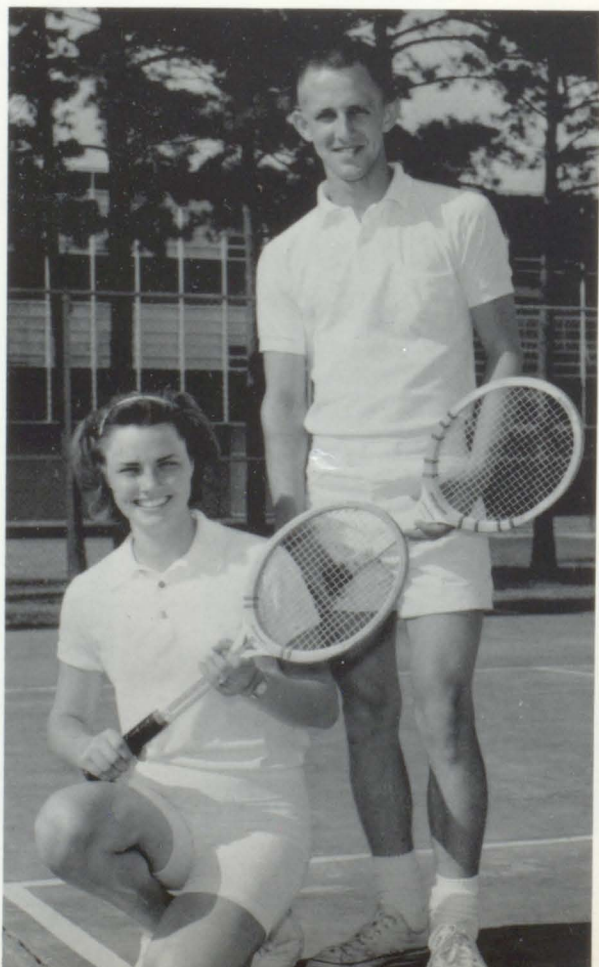

Joy Anderson sparked the team throughout the season and went on to place second in the Girls' Singles Division in the state tennis tournament.

The Knights captured a team trophy at El Dorado by winning first place in the Oil Belt tournament. Tommy Wynn and Rob Duvall did a good job in the doubles while Tommy Wynn and Anita Robison held down the mixed doubles.

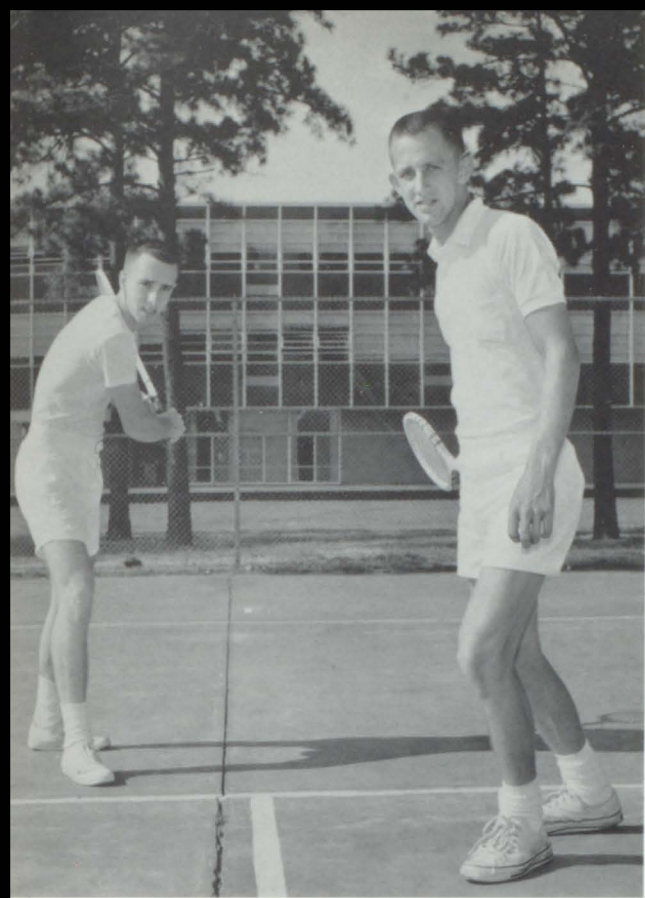

Joy Anderson played for three seasons on the tennis team and was runner-up in the 1963 state championships.

Cheerleaders Win Five Blue Ribbons

After competing against other groups of six in their category, the Woodlawn cheerleaders returned from cheerleading school at Southern Methodist University with five first place ribbons. The school lasted for five days in August and was the largest of its kind ever held at SMU.

Our cheerleaders, using seven uniforms throughout the season, play, but they also work. During football season, sixth period each day is spent in making signs and posters, practicing cheers, and planning pep rallies. On game days, these girls sell booster ribbons, lead the pep rally, put up signs at the stadium, and decorate the goal posts.

Basketball season calls for more posters and practicing, along with vividly decorating the gym for the Woodlawn Tournament.

Cheerleader elections are held each spring following a week of campaigning. Four seniors and two juniors are chosen and are announced at an assembly held after school on the day after elections.

Advisors, Mrs. Jackie Barr and Miss Topsy George, display a picture of the 1963-64 cheerleaders along with the blue ribbons they won at cheerleading school.

Lancerettes Have Record Membership

Boasting a record membership of 204 girls, the Lancerettes this year claim the distinction of being the largest marching pep squad in Louisiana. but they also have the largest marching group.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Joyce Jordan and Miss Topsy George the Lancerettes promote the athletic teams and boost school spirit. Other advisors are Mrs. Martha Plummer, Miss Betty Dixon, and Mrs. Betty Hervey. Special projects undertaken this year were selling sandwiches at the Woodlawn Basketball Tournament and selling school sweatshirts.

Although the Lancerettes have marched in previous years, this year was the first in which they had an established march routine. This routine included the formation of pinwheels in a diagonal down the field, with the group ending in a victory line. This performance was given at the Springhill, West Monroe, Jesuit, and Bossier games. A variation was made in the last presentation. The Lancerettes call it their grand finale because they ended the routine with the formation of a large "K" in the center of the field.

After attending all regular season football games, a group of 184 Lancerettes accompanied the Knights to New Orleans for the State playoff game against East Jefferson.

The Lancerettes also perfected many flash card drills. Their performances include the formation of a Knight's head, a Knight on a horse, and the Lancerette shield.

Besides performing at all football and home basketball games, the pep squad also marched in three parades. These were the State Fair Parade, the Veteran's Day Parade, and the Holiday in Dixie Parade.

Any sophomore, junior, and senior girl may join the Lancerettes. The only requirement is that she maintain a C average and get a recommendation from one of the advisors.

Hand drills are performed at every pep rally and game. Practice on these drills begins in late August.

Piles of books and purses were certain signs that the Lancerettes were on the band practice field working on a new routine. The group drilled three times weekly.

Boasting the title of the largest marching pep squad in Louisiana, the Lancerettes line up to perform their pinwheel routine. The group begins in four company fronts, each of which extends the entire width of the field.

Teachers Win Over Lancerettes 20-17

Making over $300, which was clear profit, the Lancerettes staged their annual game against the women teachers on January 21. The game, the third of its kind, was originally scheduled for January 14, but had to be postponed because there was no heat in the gym.

Approximately twenty teachers dressed out for action, including Mr. Dunn, who served as cheerleader for the faculty. The teachers came out on top this year with a three-point lead. The final score was 20-17.

During half-time a satire was given on three of Shakespeare's most noted plays, Macbeth, Romeo and Juliet, and Anthony and Cleopatra. Those who participated in the skit were Dianne Willis, Helen Charping, Beverly Richard, Jan Prothro, Kathy Robinson, Karen Bryant, Pam Parker, Faye Shipley, Jane Cantrell, Pam Shaw, and Susie Wright. Proceeds from the game will be used to buy new drums and to finance the Lancerette banquet.

Cheerleaders, Moss McCalister, Randy Mason, Buster Herren, Chili Mann, and Bruce McMellon surround Mr. Dunn.

LEFT: Mrs. Barr is in the open to make an unguarded shot for the faculty. CENTER: Miss Jordan adds two points to the scoreboard for the teachers. RIGHT: Miss Dixon goes up for the rebound while Rita Allen tries to get the ball.

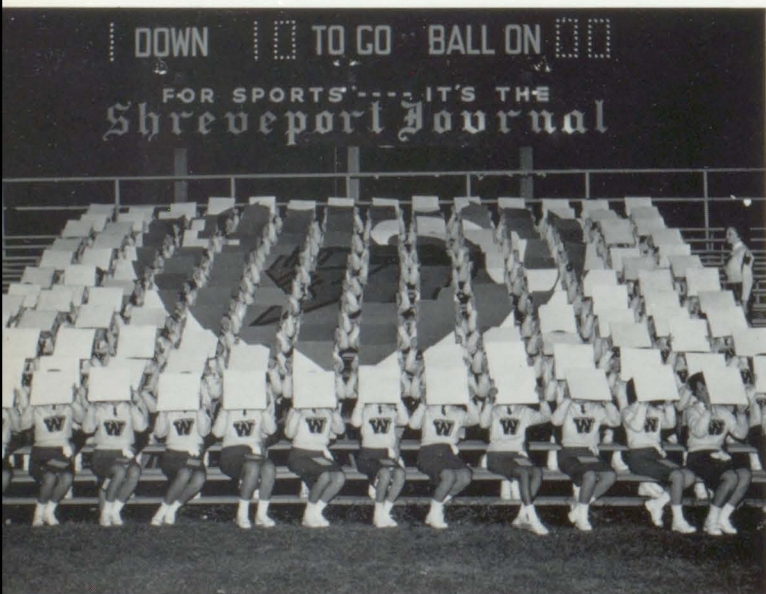

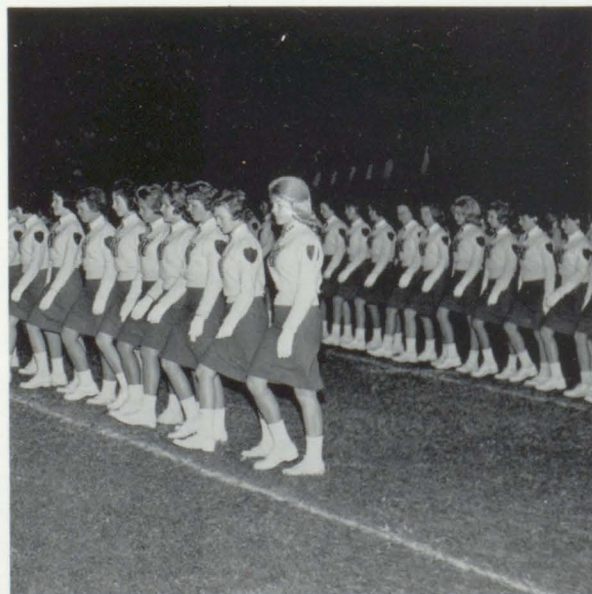

The Lancerettes spend many hours practicing to perfect hand drills and yells in order to give a smart performance.

Pep Practices Held Sixth Hour

"Pep squad, let's try it one more time," was a familiar sound heard in the gym every day during sixth period for the first twelve weeks of school. This was the hour during which the pep squad and Cheerleaders met to practice for the week's big game. Much time was spent in teaching and learning new yells, songs, and chants.

The Lancerette shield, first shown at the Minden game, was one of the flash card drills done this year.

Pin wheels were an addition to the pep squad's marching routine this year. It was performed four times.

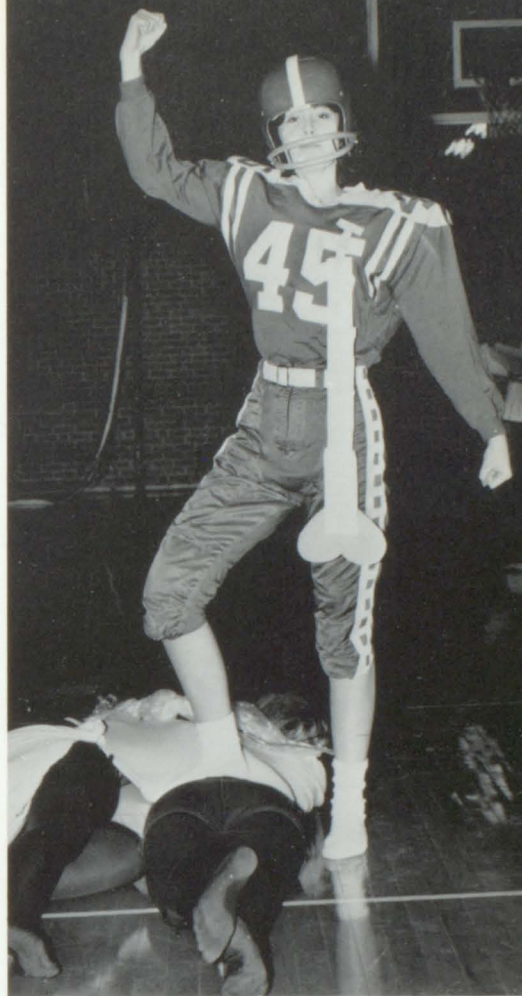

Through blurry eyes caused by happy tears, Sheila and Barbara express to each other their disbelief at having been selected as senior cheerleaders.

After a spirited pep rally preceding the Byrd-Woodlawn football game, the Cheerleaders join the rest of the student body in singing the "Alma Mater."

Sir Yomas Tungblood, Pat Rice, saves the Knights by defeating the foe—"Bird."

LEFT: Although the scoreboard shows that the Knights are behind, the Cheerleaders never say, "Die!" They continue to lead the crowd in cheers to pep up the team. RIGHT: When Woodlawn is on top, they display their satisfaction by dancing in a circle.

Six weeks out of the year are spent in a first aid or health class. Girls in Mrs. Hervey's third period first aid class demonstrate mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, artificial respiration, and transportation of a victim of an accident.

Miss Dixon looks on as her class goes through daily exercises. This exercise is designed to develop coordination as well as to keep the figure trim.

Girls' Phys Ed Adds One Teacher

Physical education classes are designed to develop one, both mentally and physically. For this reason the Girls' PE Department offers six weeks of first aid or health to the girls, in addition to the long list of physical activities. During the year, girls may take part in basketball, softball, volleyball, tennis, tumbling, or recreational games, as well as the dancing classes which include tap, modern, and square dancing. After a period of practice in each of these, the girls are given tests on their knowledge of the rules as well as skill tests on their ability.

Since all but about four girls in Woodlawn are enrolled in PE, it was necessary this year to add a teacher to this department.

A fee of $1.15 is charged annually for locker and towel rental. Because of the great enrollment some girls share lockers.

Square dancing is part of the girls' phys ed curricula. Miss Jordan's class has just begun a "grand right and left."

Miss George helps Pam Fuller with the position of her golf club, while Helen Charping, Penny Clark, and Glynn Hemphill practice the follow through.

Sandy Ebarb (second from left) tests her skill as she and Mary Greer take on Carolyn Harrington and Florence Saxon in a game of horseshoes.

Boys' Phys Ed Enrolls 500

The boys' Physical Education Department has a staff of four full-time instructors. It was necessary to add one of those this year. Classes meet one hour daily five days per week and have some of the best facilities to be found in the city. In addition to the fine equipment available for use, each boy has his own locker and lock.

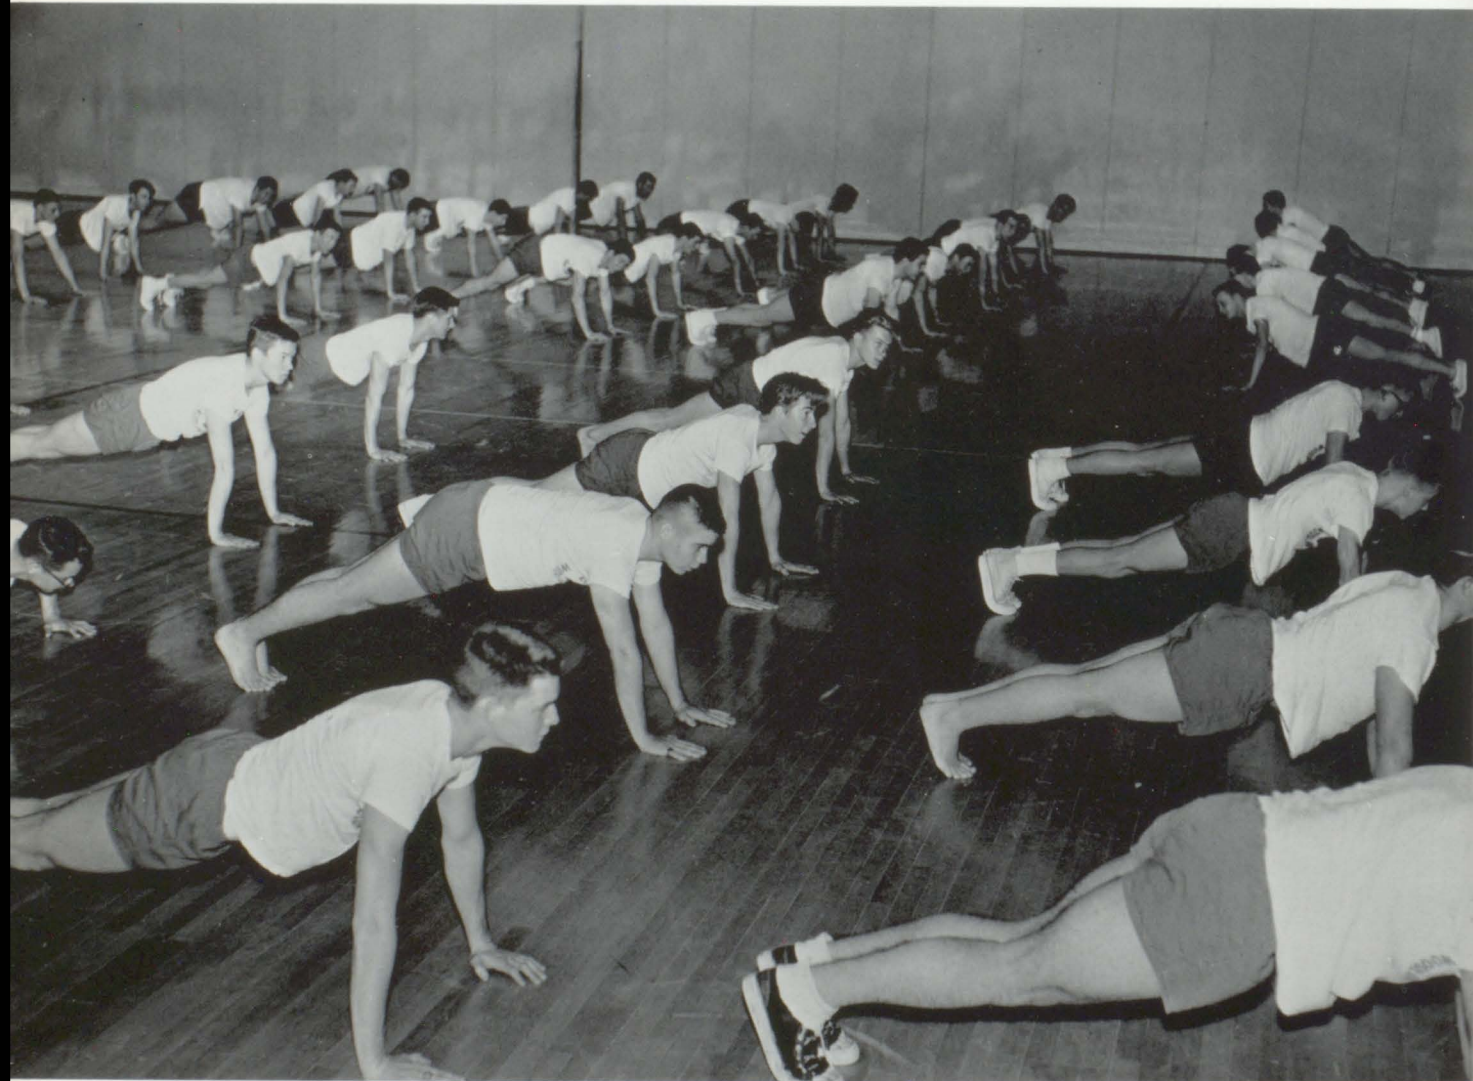

Because of the large play area, many and varied classes can be held simultaneously. The gym can be partitioned into four playing areas and classrooms are also available.

The sports program includes supervised basketball, baseball, touch football, gymnastics, calisthenics and weightlifting.

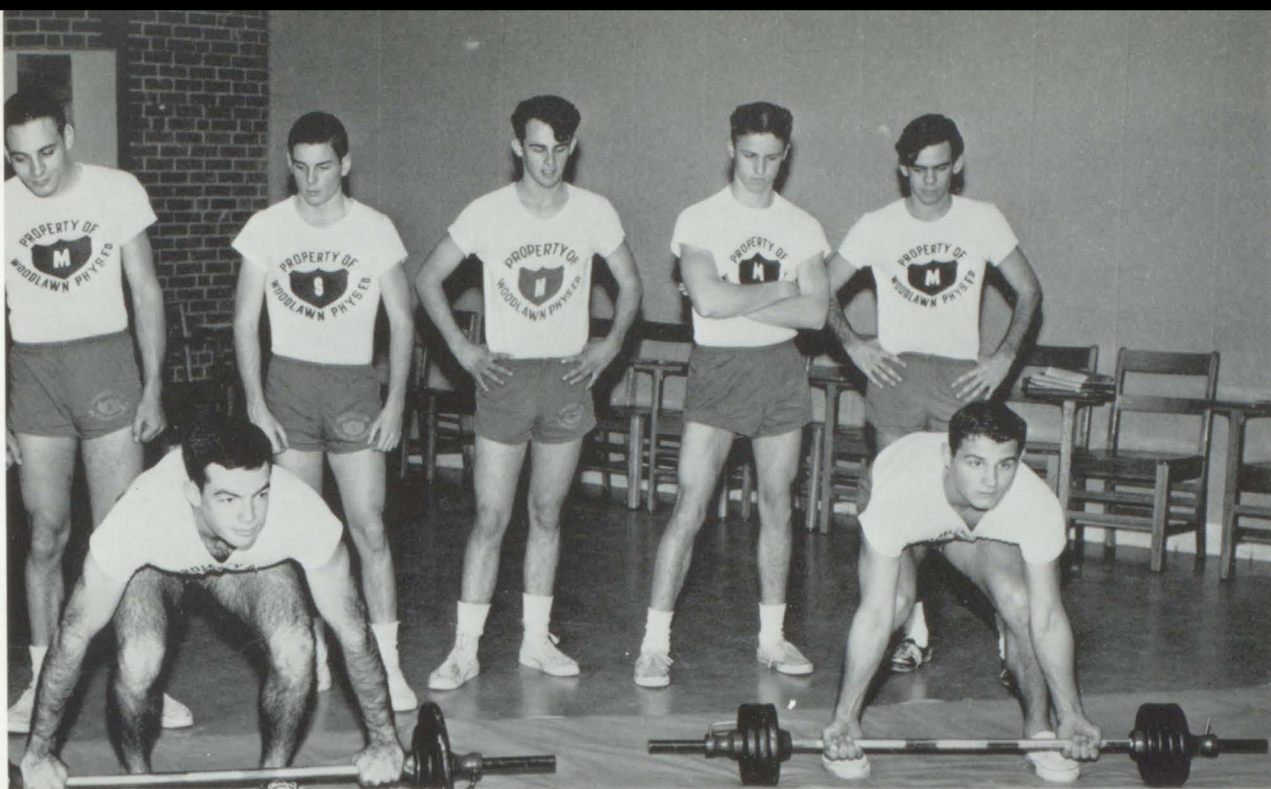

To some extent, the program is correlated with the president's national physical fitness program. Therefore tests are given occasionally to see that the students maintain a certain proficiency and that their bodies are in good physical condition.

Cleanliness, good health habits, proper attitudes, and good sportsmanship are also emphasized in this department.

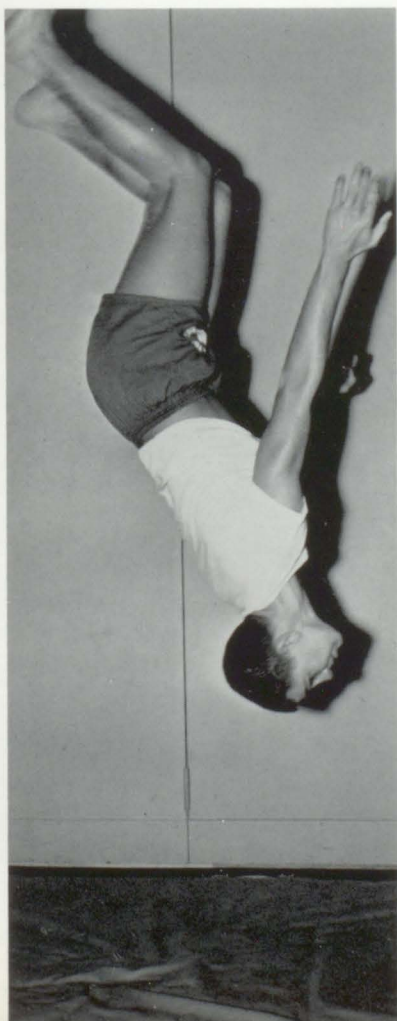

To aid in body building, exercises are done each morning for warm-up. The third period gym classes of Coach Hedges and Coach Calvert do push ups as part of their physical training.

Robert Kneipp and Alan Munroe demonstrate their ability at weight-lifting to other members of their physical education class.

Quite a bit of time is spent in playing basketball in the PE program. This sport is a favorite among some of the boys even if there is stiff competition for the ball sometime.

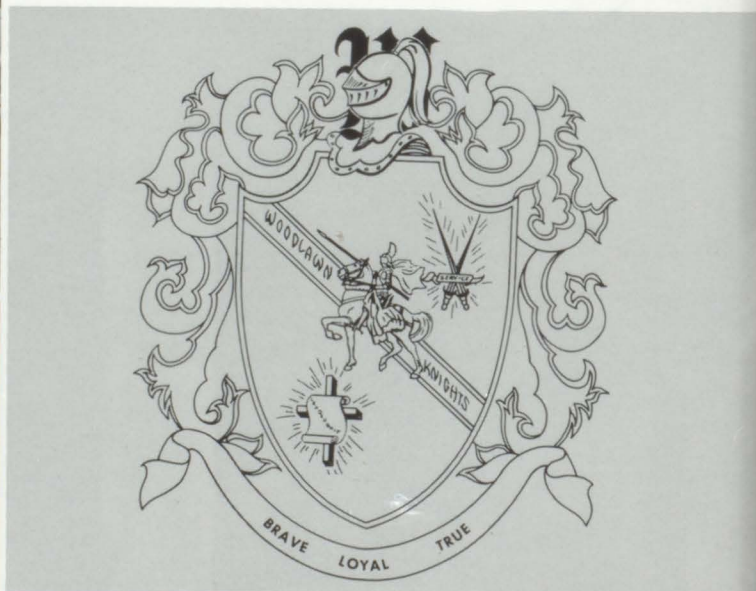

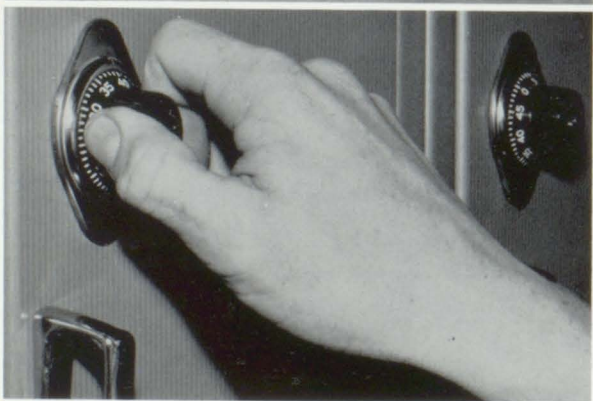

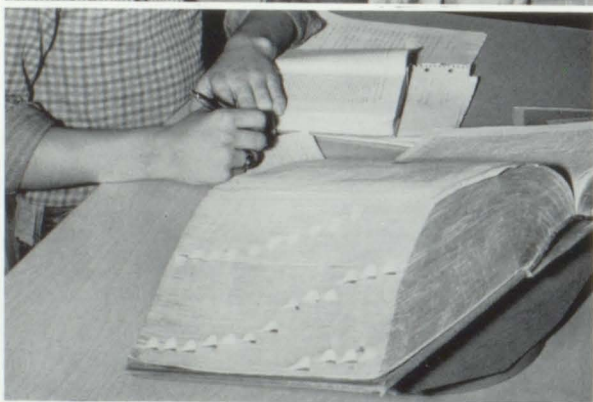

Danny Lambert does a back somersault as he ends a series of back hand-springs in a class of gymnastics.

Dear Mrs. B.,

First year here, two sr. plays. "Jenny Kissed Me" was great, but "Meet Me In St. Louis" went over good. Many people have said that "St. Louis" was the greatest sr. play ever. (They are right, of course). We of the cast owe you and Mrs. R. more than you ever may know. Without both of you to encourage us after Classes "Jenny" was cancelled we would never never have made it. more successful sr. plays to you. God Bless.

Sir Knight, a symbol of Woodlawn made by some students in an Art class of Miss Blackburne's, keeps a watchful eye from the sideline during each football game. Wendall Frazier, Charles Lunsford and Tommy Faulkner carry the Knight to his place during the Homecoming game. These boys were responsible for getting our Knight to and from each game.

All through the day many students make use of the water fountain facilities at various points throughout the school. Lewis Allgood, a senior, pauses during the midst of a busy day for a cold drink of water.

A decorated bus adds to the spirit and excitement of trips taken by many students for football games. Mary Lou Bizet adds a perky bow to the decorations on her way to West Monroe to see the Knights play.

Dear Mrs. Bordelon,
 What can you say to a teacher? Believe it or not I really think you're great. You're really beginning to catch on to this teaching bit. Someday you'll be really 4+. I really feel like I've learned a lot in here. I promise I'll be a good little Drama Club kid next year. Lots of luck in the

Accolade Will Be Guide in Future

Well, Knights, here it is that time of year again. The time when we say good-bye to our friends, perhaps forever, and look toward the future. But no matter how deep into the future we probe, there are certain years in our lives that we will never forget. These years are the ones we spend in high school.

This year has been filled with many memorable experiences. Some brought tears. Some brought laughter. Others brought excitement. And still others brought fear. But whatever feeling the occasion conveyed, it was meant to make the experience unforgettable.

In the years to come, you may wish to reminisce about your high school days. That is why we, the staff, have worked so hard to give you this—your 1964 ACCOLADE. In the pages of this book, you will find a complete history of your school year 1963-64, and an accurate record of the year's events.

You will enjoy having it now, but more important, in future years it will be of immeasurable value, for it will be your guide into the past.

There are many people who were essential in making your yearbook possible. These people were a great help to me, so before completing the book, I would like to extend my appreciation to them.

First and foremost is my advisor, Miss Willa Smith. Without her, you would not be holding this book in your hands today. With all the help and advice she gave and all the work she did besides teaching her classes, I think there must be 25 hours in Miss Smith's days. She will always be an inspiration to me because she taught me that hard work can be fun.

To Mr. Jimmy Cobb, Taylor Representative, Mr. Jim Bolin, and all the other wonderful people of Taylor Publishing Company, go my thanks and appreciation for being so helpful and encouraging.

For doing an especially hard job, I thank Mr. Tom Drummond, and his wife, Pat. Since last June, they have worked at an extreme pace to give us the best quality photographs.

My appreciation is extended to Mrs. Jackie Barr and Miss Mickey Nickels and their circulation and ad staffs. I also want to thank our many advertisers who helped to pay for the annuals.

And I wish to thank the school administration and you, the student body, because you are the yearbook. Without you there would be no ACCOLADE.

Now, saving the best for last, for many hours of hard work with little recognition, I want to thank my wonderful 1964 ACCOLADE staff—

Robbie Ashford
ACCOLADE EDITOR

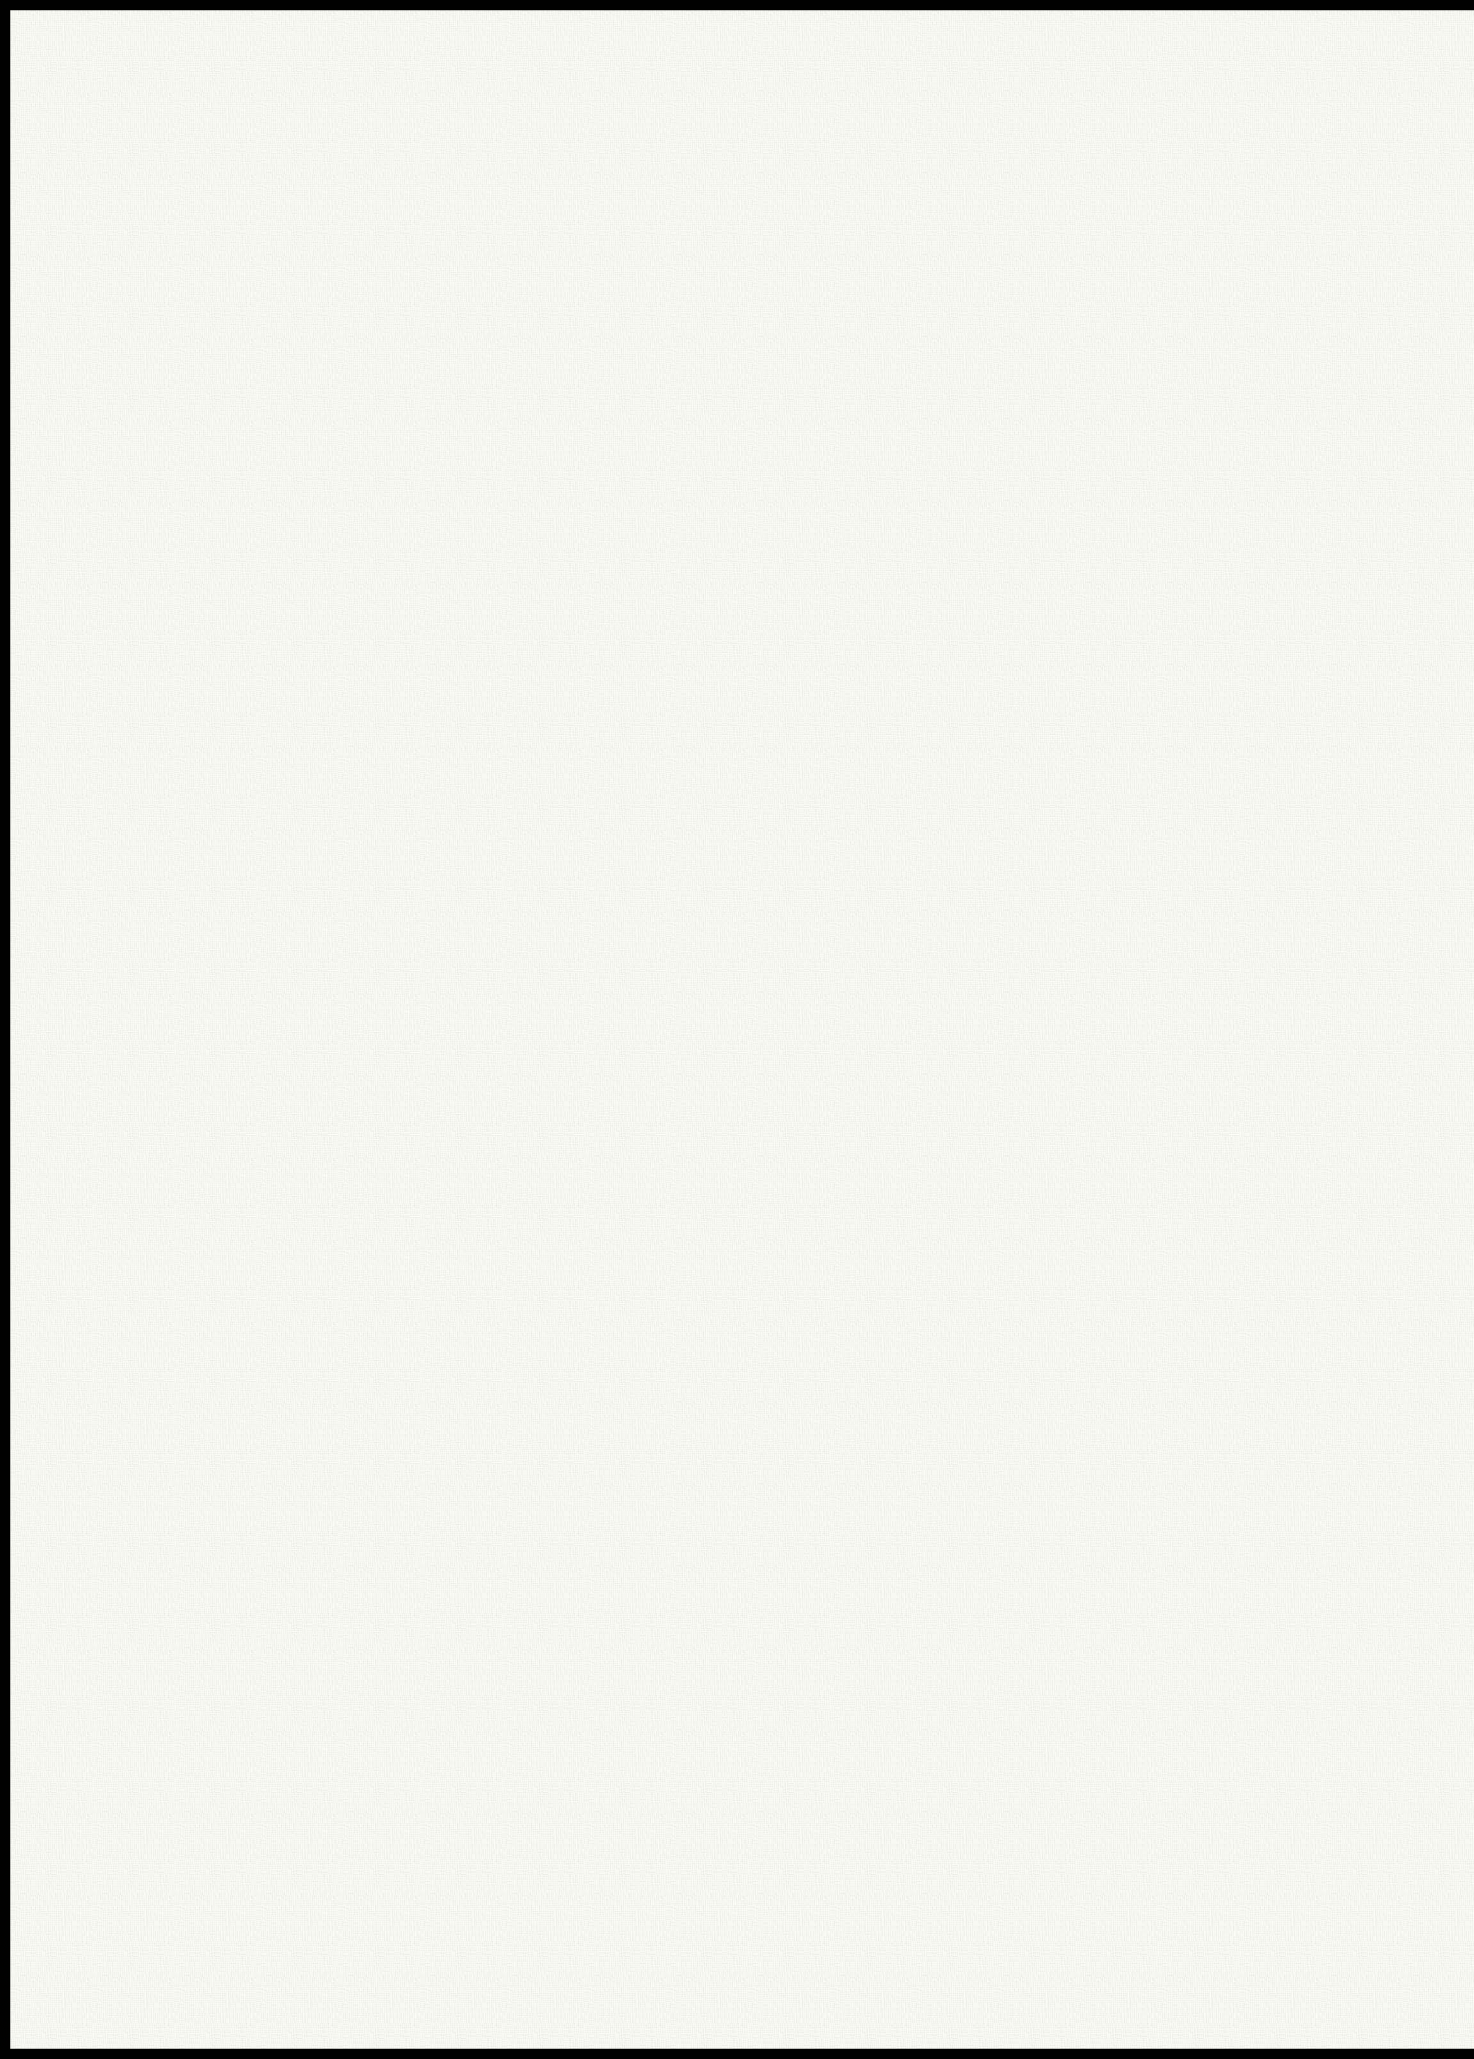

The school crest design was introduced on the cover of this 1964 edition of the ACCOLADE. On page 2 we noted the origin and significance of this shield. Its appearance as the focal point of the decorations for the Accolade Pageant marked the first official use of it as a school symbol. That historical first appearance is recorded for history in this photograph. The ACCOLADE cover marks another use of it as we began this book with this significant emblem. Now we end this book with the same thing and hope that you, by having seen it used throughout these pages, will make it a permanent part of your memories and readily recognize it each time you see it as the official crest of Woodlawn High School.
